Schwellenbach Is Confident He Can Bring Operators, Miners Together

Time Is Not Yet Ripe for Appealing for Resumption of Talks

CONFERENCES WILL BE HELD OVER WEEKEND

Secretary Meets with Parties, Finds Few Points of Agreement

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach tonight expressed confidence he could bring John L. Lewis and bituminous coal operators together next week for renewal of contract negotiations which the union suddenly broke off yesterday.

Schwellenbach, after a two-hour conference with the operators and a separate 140-minute conference with Lewis and his United Mine Workers, said the time is not yet ripe for appealing to the parties in the dispute to resume negotiations immediately.

The secretary said that if he should ask the operators and miners to meet tomorrow they would do so, but "they would sit there for five weeks or more and not actually get together."

Instead, he said, he and Assistant Secretary John W. Gibson with Special Conciliator Paul W. Fuller will hold meetings over the week-end with both sides in an effort to clear up additional points at issue.

"Few Points of Agreement"

The secretary said that in his conferences which went into early evening, he had "found very few points of agreement" between the parties.

"I came to the conclusion that no value would come from attempting to get them into a joint conference tomorrow or Saturday," the secretary said.

"The operators stated they were willing to meet in joint conference. Mr. Lewis did not state that he was unwilling to meet in joint conference, but stated he felt that a joint conference such as they have had during the last five weeks would accomplish nothing as long as the operators refused any of the proposals that he made."

Schwellenbach's meetings with the disputants came shortly after Harold L. Ickes had jumped into the eleven-day old strike situation with a denunciation of Lewis's welfare fund demand.

Demand Is "Unsound"

"Economically unsound and governmentally unwise" was the way the former interior secretary and fuels administrator described the United Mine Workers' No. 1 demand.

Schwellenbach said that government seizure, resorted to twice to end wartime strikes, was not contemplated at present. He also said he had no plans to appoint a fact-finding or arbitration panel, a labor procedure favored in general by President Truman.

As a result of the strike, United States Steel Corporation laid off 1,000 additional employes today, bringing to 15,000 the number idle in that industry in the Pittsburgh and Chicago areas. The Illinois-Central railroad shops at Paducah, Ky., said 1,200 employes would be laid off Saturday for an indefinite period. Several other railroads announced layoffs soon after the strike started.

Housing Program Wins Support from Unusual Senate Combination

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—An ambitious program to provide 15,000,000 homes in this country during the next ten years won support in the Senate today from an unusual combination of members.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), frequently a leader among the more traditional Republicans, Sen. Ellender (D-La), a member of the southern Democratic bloc, and Sen. Wagner (D-NY), veteran sponsor of much New Deal legislation, joined in vocal support for the program.

They termed it a "big step" toward a permanent national program to provide "decent living conditions" for millions of American families, with private capital supplying most of the funds, and local and state governments taking the initiative.

Rape-Killer Earl McFarland Is Seized in Knoxville, Tenn.

Ex-Marine Who Fled Washington Jail Offers No Resistance

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 11 (AP)—Rape-killer Earl McFarland, who fled a District of Columbia death-house cell eight days ago, was captured by the FBI here today, apparently while awaiting a street car.

Unarmed and with no money, the 24-year-old ex-marine put up no resistance, said Norman H. McCabe, agent in charge of the Knoxville FBI office.

McFarland was awaiting execution for the 1944 rape-slaying of an 18-year-old government girl in Washington when he escaped in the early morning hours of April 3.

Joseph D. Medley, also under death sentence for killing a Washington woman and who escaped with McFarland, was recaptured the same day.

McCabe said McFarland "offered us no trouble at all" when FBI agents closed in on him at the corner of Gay and Magnolia streets.

McFarland is a Tennessean and McCabe said Knoxville police and FBI officers intensified their search after hearing he was en route here.

FBI agents quoted him as saying that he hitch-hiked a ride to Richmond, Va., after escaping the jail, and from there rode a freight train to Knoxville.

Escape of McFarland and Medley started an investigation into Washington jail conditions, and an official announcement disclosed the two made their getaway after overpowering two special guards with whom they had been playing cards.

Atomic Control Bill Is Approved By Senate Group

Measure Gives Government Broad Powers, Sets Up Commission

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The Senate Atomic Energy committee unanimously approved today a far-reaching control bill designed to stimulate the peacetime development of the new power source without endangering national security.

The eleven members of the committee had spent nearly five months hearing witnesses and drafting details of the domestic control measure. Nine members were present at the final session and the remaining two gave their approval by telephone to last-minute changes in the text.

The bill gives the government absolute control over the production, ownership and use of fissionable material from which the energy is derived, and sets up an atomic energy commission of five civilians as the administrative agency.

The commission would have powers broader than any previously exercised by any agency of the United States government in peacetime. Heavy penalties ranging up to twenty years imprisonment and a $20,000 fine are provided for the dissemination of restricted information on atomic energy.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) said the bill would be formally cleared to the Senate about Tuesday.

While the bill is indefinite about appropriations for the work, McMahon said they were estimated to run about $500,000,000 a year.

The five members of the central administrative commission would serve full-time, staggered, five-year terms. The chairman would receive $17,500 a year, the other members, $15,000. All would be appointed by the president and confirmed by the Senate.

Mine Strike Reduces B. and O. Carloadings

BALTIMORE, April 11. (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad disclosed today that the strike of miners in the bituminous coal fields is directly reflected in sharp reduction in carloadings and extensive furloughing of its employees.

Citing figures, the railroad said only 172 cars of coal were loaded on the B. and O. yesterday, compared with 3,062 cars for the corresponding day of 1945. Since the strike began April 1, the company said, the daily average has been 461 cars, against an average of 2,892 for a similar period in March, and 2,361 for the corresponding period in April, 1945.

Dismembered Body Of Man Is Identified By Indiana Police

INDIANAPOLIS, April 11 (AP)—Capt. Robert O'Neal, of the state police, said tonight that a dismembered body found in Central Indiana has been identified by fingerprints as that of Leland Paul Miller, 24, Indianapolis.

The hands and one foot were found today along a creek bank in Boone county and the torso was found later in the day in the ruins of an abandoned farm house in Montgomery county, about ten miles away.

O'Neal said the fact that Miller was of slight stature and had slender hands led state police to an earlier conclusion that the body was that of a woman. The torso was badly burned.

O'Neal said members of Miller's family said he left home last night.

The state police captain said Miller had a police record, having been charged with vehicle taking in 1938 and with assault and battery with intent to commit murder last May.

"Liberalism vs. State Absolutism" Is Issue Facing U. S., Reece Says

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, said tonight the basic issue before this nation "is that of liberalism versus state absolutism."

He described the Republican party as the "true liberal party" fighting "encroachment by the central government." The Democratic party, he said, is composed of "oddly assorted forces—Communists, radicals, machine politicians and bourbons."

The new Republican National Committee head spoke before the twenty-fifth annual dinner of the New York University School of Commerce and the New York chapter, Yankee Division Veterans Association, New York University Faculty Club.

Talks To Settle Troubles in Iran May Be Underway

Azerbaijan Chief Says His Province Does Not Want Separation

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, April 11. (AP)—Negotiations to settle troubles in Azerbaijan and Kurdistan already may be underway, it was indicated today shortly after the chief of the autonomous Azerbaijan government declared his province did not want to be separated from Iran.

The Azerbaijan premier, Jafar Pishevari, also was quoted in a broadcast from Tabriz last night as openly thanking the Red army "since it was by their efforts that the tyrannical regime of Iran was overthrown."

The premier asserted that "all our activities proved to the world we are not separatists. We have never wanted to be separated from Iran."

Pishevari said the "Red army is leaving Azerbaijan," but in Tehran an official British source declared that the Russians, instead of beginning evacuation of the province, actually may be increasing the size of their troop and tank concentrations.

The Tabriz broadcast, quoting from a report by Pishevari to the Azerbaijan parliament, declared also that the autonomous regime had started a land distribution program "by which almost 1,000,000 peasants will receive lands," and voiced a belief that Azerbaijan must have a regular army in addition to volunteer militia because "we know very well that without an army it is impossible to have freedom."

Pishevari's statement supported several developments indicating that emissaries of Azerbaijan and Kurdistan may be conferring with central government representatives in a mountain retreat near Karaj in the first step toward re-establishing Iranian unity.

While there was no official confirmation that such a meeting was under way, an Iranian cabinet member declared that Azerbijan has selected a "peace delegation" at a special two-day session by Parliament which ended yesterday in Tabriz.

Carroll To Seek Comptroller Post

BALTIMORE, April 11 (AP)—Daniel H. Carroll, head of a Baltimore accounting firm and former deputy state auditor, announced today that he would seek the Democratic nomination for state comptroller.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed at Annapolis that Bernard F. Owens, a Baltimore architect, had filed notice of candidacy for the House of Representatives from the Third congressional district, and that John M. Kennedy, Baltimore, president of a construction firm, had filed for governor. Both candidacies were for the Democratic nominations.

In a statement announcing his candidacy, Carroll said he felt entitled to ask for the office of comptroller because of his work as deputy auditor, his accounting experience and "because in my service to the state I have proven my ability to unearth and recover for the state large sums of money."

Carroll said that in 1926 he discovered a $16,000 shortage in the office of the commissioner of motor vehicles; in 1925 a shortage of $47,000 in the house of correction, and in 1930 a $31,000 irregularity in a water-sewer contract in Baltimore county.

A native of Bel Air, the candidate served in the House of Delegates shortly after the turn of the centufy and later was register of wills for Harford county.

Release Taxi Driver

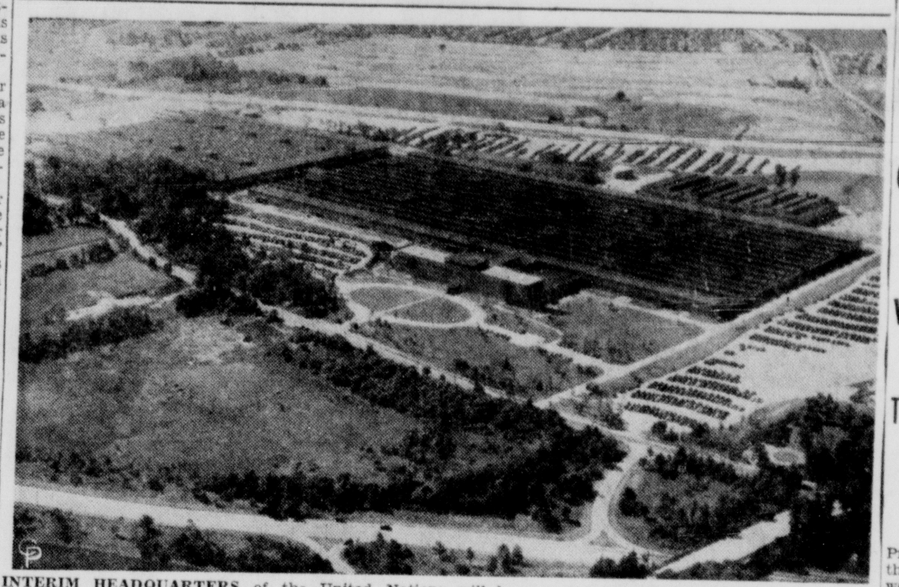

HAGERSTOWN, April 11 (AP)—Detective Wayne Sellman announced tonight that a taxi driver held since Sunday night for questioning in connection with the slaying of Betty Jane Kennedy had been released.

Meanwhile, a number of additional persons were questioned today and Sellman indicated the investigation was proceeding satisfactorily.

The girl's nude body was found near Waynesboro, Pa., last Thursday morning.

GYROSCOPE PLANT WILL BE U. N. HEADQUARTERS

INTERIM HEADQUARTERS of the United Nations will be moved to the $17,783,000 Sperry gyroscope plant at Lake Success, twenty-two miles from New York city, as soon as arrangements can be made. Above is an air view of the huge plant, the grounds of which are handsomely landscaped, with a parking space for thousands of cars.

U. N. Will Meet On World's Fair Site at New York

Interim Headquarters Will Be Moved to Sperry Gyroscope Plant

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—The United Nations decided today to move its interim headquarters to the $17,783,000 Sperry gyroscope plant at Lake Success—twenty-two miles from New York city—and accepted an offer of Mayor William O'Dwyer to set the old World's Fair site at Flushing Meadows in order for next September's meeting of the General Assembly.

The Security council, pledged under its rules to meet at least every two weeks, will transfer its activities from Hunter college, in the Bronx, to the Lake Success site as soon as arrangements can be made.

New York city's offer—described by Secretary General Trygve Lie as "a very great contribution to the success of the United Nations"—was to spend $1,250,000 improving the municipal building at the fair site and to erect housing units to accommodate 4,000 persons on the United Nations payroll by January 1, 1947.

Although present contract requires the United Nations to evacuate the remodeled gymnasium at Hunter college May 15, Lie requested an extension to August 15, in a letter to the mayor.

While today's decision disposed of the immediate problem of accommodations for the world peace preserving organization, the task of finding a permanent home is far from solved.

Authorities estimate it will be three to five years before the United Nations is permanently established in the Westchester (N-Y.)—Fairfield (Conn) area. And although the Assembly agreed on the site, there were rumors of a move to locate elsewhere—in the old League of Nations home at Geneva or in San Francisco.

The Sperry plant is forty-five minutes from midtown Manhattan by automobile. The nearest railroad station—New Hyde Park on the Long Island line—is more than a mile distant.

Truman Will Dedicate Home of Roosevelt As National Shrine

HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 11. (AP)—President Truman tomorrow will dedicate as a national shrine the house, the gardens and the rolling acres which were home to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A 33-acre portion of the late president's estate, including the stone and stucco mansion where he was born and the century-old rose garden where he is buried, will be presented formally by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to Interior Secretary J. A. Krug.

President Truman's dedicatory address will follow the presentation. Ceremonies will be broadcast from 2:30 to 3:00 p. m. (EST) over three national networks (NBC, CBS, ABC).

Government Eases Building Controls

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The government tonight relaxed its construction controls to permit priority claims on materials for some non-veteran housing.

At the same time the Civilian Production Administration and the National Housing Agency announced that present members of the armed forces will be eligible to build, buy or rent under the veterans emergency housing program.

Heretofore only discharged veterans could qualify to build or occupy homes constructed under the program to sell at $10,000 or less or rent for $80 or under.

Under the relaxed order, priority assistance in obtaining scarce materials will be granted in these additional cases:

1. For construction of farm houses and homes for workers engaged in production of essential food or "scarce materials and products."

2. Builders of non-veteran dwellings which were under construction before March 26 now may apply for priorities assistance to complete such houses and apartments. Except in "unusual circumstances" these applications will not be approved if the proposed sales price is over $15,000, or the rent is more than $120 a unit a month.

3. Reconstruction or repair of dwellings destroyed by fire or similar disaster where such work is necessary to eliminate hardship. In cases involving rebuilding or more than half of a structure, the sales price will be limited to $10,000 and the rent to $80, except where "great hardship" would result.

4. Repair or alterations of dwellings either to maintain them or to return to a habitable condition or to provide space for additional persons. Priorities assistances will not be granted unless it has been vacant for six months for lack of repairs.

Tire Industry Probe

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—A government investigation of the rubber tire industry to determine whether there had been anti-trust violations began today, Attorney General Tom Clark announced.

Clark said the inquiry, involving companies in all sections of the country, was started by a federal grand jury in New York city.

Mystery Document Shows Franco Threatens France, Spanish Republican Says

Fernando de Los Rios Hopes Paper Will Be Laid before U. N.

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—A Spanish Republican leader tonight tossed into the mounting controversy over the Franco government a mysterious document which he said showed that Franco Spain was an aggressor nation threatening France.

The Spanish Republican, Fernando de Los Rios, declared at a news conference that he hoped this document would be laid before the United Nations Security Council when it takes up the Polish charges that Spain is a threat to world peace and that Franco is harboring German scientists experimenting on new, atomic age weapons.

In Washington, President Truman told reporters that the charges filed by Poland were political but he declined to say exactly what political implications he saw in the Polish accusations.

A majority of the Security council lined up unofficially in favor of a complete airing of Poland's charges against the Franco regime of Spain.

But what the council would do after hearing Poland, it was indicated, depends entirely on the case Poland puts up.

De Los Rios, officially representative of the Spanish Republican leadership which has been recognized as a government only by Mexico and Poland among the council membership, was extremely reticent as to the source of the document he mentioned but he did say it came from within the Spanish border.

It showed, de Los Rios said, that Franco Spain was threatening France, that Franco has 450,000 troops poised on the closed French-Spanish border.

"Spain now has an army superior to that of France numerically, and perhaps in the quality of armament too," de Los Rios said.

De Los Rios said severance of diplomatic relations with Spain "by all of the United Nations collectively" would, in the opinion of the Spanish Republicans bring about Franco's downfall.

The Spanish Republican would not say who might introduce the document before the council.

President Says He Is Satisfied With Housing Bill

Coal Strike Is in Schwellenbach's Hands, Chief Executive States

WORLD FOOD OUTLOOK IS TERMED BRIGHTER

Truman Declines Comment on Ickes's Proposal Lewis Be "Smashed"

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—President Truman announced today that the deficit for this fiscal year would be $7,000,000,000 less than January estimates and "we are on the way toward a balanced budget."

He also expressed fresh views to his news conference on three measures pending in Congress.

HOUSING—He is satisfied with the housing bill as it passed the Senate yesterday. It lacks price control for existing homes but contains other features he recommended.

ARMY-NAVY MERGER — He thinks the sweeping bill drafted by a Senate Military subcommittee has a lot of good points but he reserves comment on it as a whole until Congress finally passes it.

POLL TAX—He still favors federal anti-poll tax legislation.

Ready for Poll Tax Question

The chief executive was ready for questions about his poll tax stand following his remark in Chicago last Saturday that it was a matter the states would have to work out for themselves. He had a statement prepared which said he had not changed his stand in favor of federal action to outlaw the poll tax but that he favored state action as well.

The question about unification of the armed forces touched off a stern presidential dressing down to the navy for lobbying against the proposal. The commander-in-chief had set the policy, he asserted, and the navy was not justified in fighting it.

Mindful that Mr. Truman took over from President Roosevelt just one year ago tomorrow, reporters asked for his appraisal of his first year. The former vice president replied that they could take their choice of those already made—that is what he does.

He did say, though, that he felt better physically now than he had when he took office. And he recalled the motto about the first year being the hardest and voiced hope that the rest of them would not be any harder.

News-Packed Session

The news-packed session ranged over a variety of matters.

1. The coal strike is entirely in the hands of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach. The president declined with a laugh to comment on Harold L. Ickes's suggestion that John L. Lewis be "smashed."

2. The food outlook for the world is brighter as a result of rains in India and good grain crop prospects in North Africa and France but the next ninety days will be critical.

3. Gen. George C. Marshall has been very successful in his conferences here—the details were not disclosed—and is returning to China.

4. The president supports Lewis W. Douglas for head of the world bank. His comment on criticism of Douglas by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., former secretary of the treasury, was that Morgenthau was no longer in the government.

Envoy Is Confirmed

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—The Senate today confirmed George S. Messersmith, former ambassador to Mexico, as ambassador to Argentina.

Confirmation also was voted for Maj. Gen. John H. Hilldring as assistant secretary of state.

One-Year Extension of Draft Is Approved by Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The full one-year draft extension the armed services seek was approved by the Senate military committee today, and five different pay increase proposals were showered onto the floors of Congress.

The Senate committee, unable to decide upon any particular one, reported four of them for consideration by the full Senate and tied three of them in with the draft extension itself.

A House Military subcommittee recommended the fifth, as a bill apart from the draft. In a separate measure, the House committee has approved a nine-month extension of the draft, now due to expire May 15, and this will come up in the House tomorrow.

The House group's pay increase plan would raise the pay of privates from $50 to $75 a month and give proportionately smaller increases to all other enlisted men and officers up to colonel. This replaced a measure approved by the subcommittee yesterday which would have provided a flat $400 a year raise for all servicemen.

The Senate committee, in an action which Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) conceded was highly unusual, reported the floor measures which would provide:

1. Pay increases for enlisted men only, ranging from $15 a month for privates down to $2 for top sergeants.

2. Similar increases, but as a measure separate from the draft extension.

3. An extra $50 a month for all officers and men serving at sea outside the United States.

4. A twenty per cent increase for all officers and men.

The one-year draft extension which the committee approved was technically a bill by Sen. Gurney (R-SD) providing as well for the $15 boost for privates and smaller hikes for other enlisted men.

Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa) proposed to grant these increases separate from the draft act, and Sen. Maybank (D-SC) sponsored the flat $50 overseas payment. The army already pays twenty per cent extra for overseas duty.

Beardall Says Roosevelt Showed "No Alarm" Morning of Dec. 7, 1941

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's naval aide, Adm. J. R. Beardall, testified today that the late president showed "no alarm" the morning of December 7, 1941, on receiving final part of a Japanese message breaking off "peace negotiation."

Beardall told the Senate-House committee investigating the Pearl Harbor attack of that date that he delivered the completed part of the message to Mr. Roosevelt as the president lay abed.

"It looks as though the Japanese are going to break off negotiations," Beardall quoted Mr. Roosevelt as saying.

"Was there anything in his manner indicating that the expected an attack within a period of hours?" asked Rep. Murphy (D-Pa).

"There was not. There was no alarm, nothing about 'this means war,' nothing showing he expected an attack," was the reply.

Comdr. Lester R. Schulz has testified that the night before when he delivered the first thirteen parts of the fourteen-part message, Mr. Roosevelt said, in substance, "This means war."

Earlier Adm. Harold R. Stark, 1941 chief of naval operations, disagreed with Schulz.

"I have read the Schulz testimony and I am not convinced from it that the president said 'This means war,' " Stark volunteered to the committee.

He reiterated that Mr. Roosevelt did not call him that evening about the documents, which made up the first thirteen parts of a fourteen-part message by which "peace negotiations" were to be broken off.

Case of Attempted Fong Ouster May Be Given to United Nations

OAKLAND, Calif., April 1 (AP)—The Fong dispute with members of the Oak Knoll Improvement Club over alleged racial discrimination may be submitted to the United Nations, Horace Y. M. Fong's attorney announced today.

Fifteen "does" are specified in a court action brought by Mrs. Ann Fong, pretty 26-year-old blonde American wife of the Chinese-American navy veteran, as instigators of a move to force them out of their $20,000 home in the fashionable Oak Knoll section because they are not "Caucasians."

The club, although not specially named in the restraining action, acknowledged as much today when its president said the club's plans would not be altered by Mrs. Fong's complaint in superior court.

Meanwhile, Attorney Melvin M. Belli, San Francisco, chief of legal counsel for the Fongs, said he planned to send a telegram, shortly to the United Nations Council and request that the attempted Fong ouster be put on its agenda.

Officers of the Oak Knoll Improvement Club, Inc., reacted cooly.

"Absurd," said Benjamin I. Clark, chairman of the restrictions committee.

"The Fongs are just trying to make a three-ring circus of the matter," declared Vice President E. C. Saudek.

Mrs. Fong's complaint ran to eight pages, and listed her husband as an American Indian by virtue of an 1854 California Supreme Court decision holding that "a Chinese is an American Indian."

Efforts to oust him, therefore, "will violate the 1796 Iroquois Nations treaty and start another war with the Indians."

Citing figures, the railroad said only 172 cars of coal were loaded on the B. and O. yesterday, compared with 3,062 cars for the corresponding day of 1945. Since the strike began April 1, the company said, the daily average has been 461 cars, against an average of 2,892 for a similar period in March, and 2,361 for the corresponding period in April, 1945.

Talks To Settle Troubles in Iran May Be Underway

Azerbaijan Chief Says His Province Does Not Want Separation

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, April 11. (AP)—Negotiations to settle troubles in Azerbaijan and Kurdistan already may be underway, it was indicated today shortly after the chief of the autonomous Azerbaijan government declared his province did not want to be separated from Iran.

The Azerbaijan premier, Jafar Pishevari, also was quoted in a broadcast from Tabriz last night as openly thanking the Red army "since it was by their efforts that the tyrannical regime of Iran was overthrown."

The premier asserted that "all our activities proved to the world we are not separatists. We have never wanted to be separated from Iran."

Pishevari said the "Red army is leaving Azerbaijan," but in Tehran an official British source declared that the Russians, instead of beginning evacuation of the province, actually may be increasing the size of their troop and tank concentrations.

The Tabriz broadcast, quoting from a report by Pishevari to the Azerbaijan parliament, declared also that the autonomous regime had started a land distribution program "by which almost 1,000,000 peasants will receive lands," and voiced a belief that Azerbaijan must have a regular army in addition to volunteer militia because "we know very well that without an army it is impossible to have freedom."

Pishevari's statement supported several developments indicating that emissaries of Azerbaijan and Kurdistan may be conferring with central government representatives in a mountain retreat near Karaj in the first step toward re-establishing Iranian unity.

While there was no official confirmation that such a meeting was under way, an Iranian cabinet member declared that Azerbijan has selected a "peace delegation" at a special two-day session by Parliament which ended yesterday in Tabriz.

Carroll To Seek Comptroller Post

BALTIMORE, April 11 (AP)—Daniel H. Carroll, head of a Baltimore accounting firm and former deputy state auditor, announced today that he would seek the Democratic nomination for state comptroller.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed at Annapolis that Bernard F. Owens, a Baltimore architect, had filed notice of candidacy for the House of Representatives from the Third congressional district, and that John M. Kennedy, Baltimore, president of a construction firm, had filed for governor. Both candidacies were for the Democratic nominations.

In a statement announcing his candidacy, Carroll said he felt entitled to ask for the office of comptroller because of his work as deputy auditor, his accounting experience and "because in my service to the state I have proven my ability to unearth and recover for the state large sums of money."

Carroll said that in 1926 he discovered a $16,000 shortage in the office of the commissioner of motor vehicles; in 1925 a shortage of $47,000 in the house of correction, and in 1930 a $31,000 irregularity in a water-sewer contract in Baltimore county.

A native of Bel Air, the candidate served in the House of Delegates shortly after the turn of the centufy and later was register of wills for Harford county.

Release Taxi Driver

HAGERSTOWN, April 11 (AP)—Detective Wayne Seliman announced tonight that a taxi driver held since Sunday night for questioning in connection with the slaying of Betty Jane Kennedy had been released.

Meanwhile, a number of additional persons were questioned today and Sellman indicated the investigation was proceeding satisfactorily.

The girl's nude body was found near Waynesboro, Pa., last Thursday morning.

Dismembered Body Of Man Is Identified By Indiana Police

INDIANAPOLIS, April 11 (AP)—Capt. Robert O'Neal, of the state police, said tonight that a dismembered body found in Central Indiana has been identified by fingerprints as that of Leland Paul Miller, 24, Indianapolis.

The hands and one foot were found today along a creek bank in Boone county and the torso was found later in the day in the ruins of an abandoned farm house in Montgomery county, about ten miles away.

O'Neal said the fact that Miller was of slight stature and had slender hands led state police to an earlier conclusion that the body was that of a woman. The torso was badly burned.

O'Neal said members of Miller's family said he left home last night.

The state police captain said Miller had a police record, having been charged with vehicle taking in 1938 and with assault and battery with intent to commit murder last May.

"Liberalism vs. State Absolutism" Is Issue Facing U. S., Reece Says

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, said tonight the basic issue before this nation "is that of liberalism versus state absolutism."

He described the Republican party as the "true liberal party" fighting "encroachment by the central government." The Democratic party, he said, is composed of "oddly assorted forces—Communists, radicals, machine politicians and bourbons."

The new Republican National Committee head spoke before the twenty-fifth annual dinner of the New York University School of Commerce and the New York chapter, Yankee Division Veterans Association, New York University Faculty Club.

Support for Rep. Roe

SALISBURY, Md., April 11. (AP)—The Worcester County Democratic State Central Committee announced today it had indorsed unanimously the candidacy of Rep. Dudley G. Roe (D-Md) in his bid for the Democratic congressional nomination from the First district.

Beardall Says Roosevelt Showed "No Alarm" Morning of Dec. 7, 1941

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's naval aide, Adm. J. R. Beardall, testified today that the late president showed "no alarm" the morning of December 7, 1941, on receiving final part of a Japanese message breaking off "peace negotiation."

Beardall told the Senate-House committee investigating the Pearl Harbor attack of that date that he delivered the completed part of the message to Mr. Roosevelt as the president lay abed.

"It looks as though the Japanese are going to break off negotiations," Beardall quoted Mr. Roosevelt as saying.

"Was there anything in his manner indicating that the expected an attack within a period of hours?" asked Rep. Murphy (D-Pa).

"There was not. There was no alarm, nothing about 'this means war,' nothing showing he expected an attack," was the reply.

Comdr. Lester R. Schulz has testified that the night before when he delivered the first thirteen parts of the fourteen-part message, Mr. Roosevelt said, in substance, "This means war."

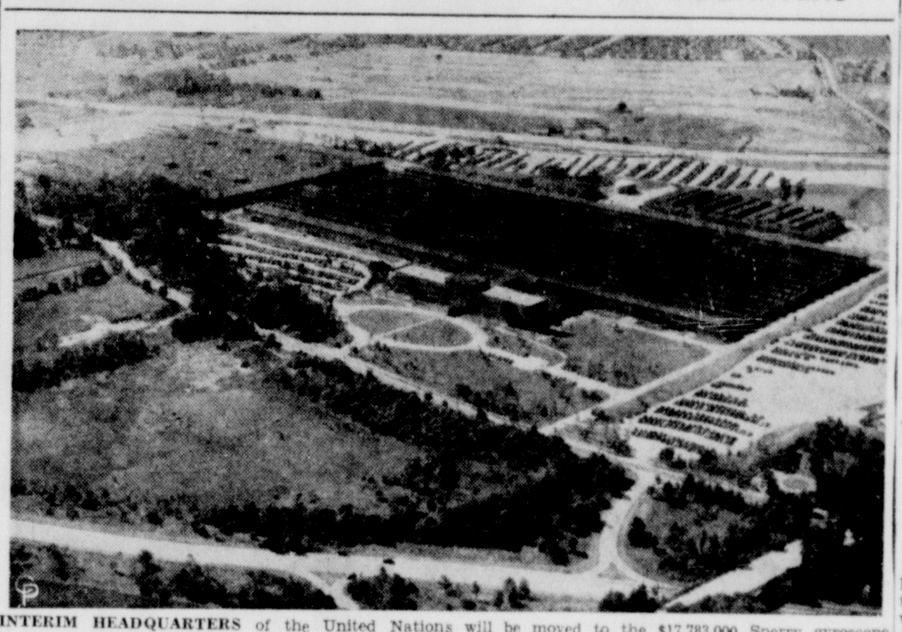

Earlier Adm. Harold R. Stark, 1941 chief of naval operations, disagreed with Schulz.

"I have read the Schulz testimony and I am not convinced from it that the president said 'This means war,'" Stark volunteered to the committee.

He reiterated that Mr. Roosevelt did not call him that evening about the documents, which made up the first thirteen parts of a fourteen-part message by which "peace negotiations" were to be broken off.

GYROSCOPE PLANT WILL BE U. N. HEADQUARTERS

INTERIM HEADQUARTERS of the United Nations will be moved to the $17,783,000 Sperry gyroscope plant at Lake Success, twenty-two miles from New York city, as soon as arrangements can be made. Above is an air view of the huge plant, the grounds of which are handsomely landscaped, with a parking space for thousands of cars.

U. N. Will Meet On World's Fair Site at New York

Interim Headquarters Will Be Moved to Sperry Gyroscope Plant

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—The United Nations decided today to move its interim headquarters to the $17,783,000 Sperry gyroscope plant at Lake Success—twenty-two miles from New York city—and accepted an offer of Mayor William O'Dwyer to set the old World's Fair site at Flushing Meadows in order for next September's meeting of the General Assembly.

The Security council, pledged under its rules to meet at least every two weeks, will transfer its activities from Hunter college, in the Bronx, to the Lake Success site as soon as arrangements can be made.

New York city's offer—described by Secretary General Trygve Lie as "a very great contribution to the success of the United Nations"—was to spend $1,250,000 improving the municipal building at the fair site and to erect housing units to accommodate 4,000 persons on the United Nations payroll by January 1, 1947.

Although present contract requires the United Nations to evacuate the remodeled gymnasium at Hunter college May 15, Lie requested an extension to August 15, in a letter to the mayor.

While today's decision disposed of the immediate problem of accommodations for the world peace preserving organization, the task of finding a permanent home is far from solved.

Authorities estimate it will be three to five years before the United Nations is permanently established in the Westchester (N-Y.)—Fairfield (Conn) area. And although the Assembly agreed on the site, there were rumors of a move to locate elsewhere—in the old League of Nations home at Geneva or in San Francisco.

The Sperry plant is forty-five minutes from midtown Manhattan by automobile. The nearest railroad station—New Hyde Park on the Long Island line—is more than a mile distant.

Mystery Document Shows Franco Threatens France, Spanish Republican Says

Fernando de Los Rios Hopes Paper Will Be Laid before U. N.

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—A Spanish Republican leader tonight tossed into the mounting controversy over the Franco government a mysterious document which he said showed that Franco Spain was an aggressor nation threatening France.

The Spanish Republican, Fernando de Los Rios, declared at a news conference that he hoped this document would be laid before the United Nations Security Council when it takes up the Polish charges that Spain is a threat to world peace and that Franco is harboring German scientists experimenting on new, atomic age weapons.

In Washington, President Truman told reporters that the charges filed by Poland were political but he declined to say exactly what political implications he saw in the Polish accusations.

A majority of the Security council lined up unofficially in favor of a complete airing of Poland's charges against the Franco regime of Spain.

But what the council would do after hearing Poland, it was indicated, depends entirely on the case Poland puts up.

De Los Rios, officially representative of the Spanish Republican leadership which has been recognized as a government only by Mexico and Poland among the council membership, was extremely reticent as to the source of the document he mentioned but he did say it came from within the Spanish border.

It showed, de Los Rios said, that Franco Spain was threatening France, that Franco has 450,000 troops poised on the closed French-Spanish border.

"Spain now has an army superior to that of France numerically, and perhaps in the quality of armament too," de Los Rios said.

De Los Rios said severance of diplomatic relations with Spain "by all of the United Nations collectively" would, in the opinion of the Spanish Republicans bring about Franco's downfall.

The Spanish Republican would not say who might introduce the document before the council.

Truman Will Dedicate Home of Roosevelt As National Shrine

HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 11. (AP)—President Truman tomorrow will dedicate as a national shrine the house, the gardens and the rolling acres which were home to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A 33-acre portion of the late president's estate, including the stone and stucco mansion where he was born and the century-old rose garden where he is buried, will be presented formally by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to Interior Secretary J. A. Krug.

President Truman's dedicatory address will follow the presentation. Ceremonies will be broadcast from 2:30 to 3:00 p. m. (EST) over three national networks (NBC, CBS, ABC).

Government Eases Building Controls

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The government tonight relaxed its construction controls to permit priority claims on materials for some non-veteran housing.

At the same time the Civilian Production Administration and the National Housing Agency announced that present members of the armed forces will be eligible to build, buy or rent under the veterans emergency housing program.

Heretofore only discharged veterans could qualify to build or occupy homes constructed under the program to sell at $10,000 or less or rent for $80 or under.

Under the relaxed order, priority assistance in obtaining scarce materials will be granted in these additional cases:

1. For construction of farm houses and homes for workers engaged in production of essential food or "scarce materials and products."

2. Builders of non-veteran dwellings which were under construction before March 26 now may apply for priorities assistance to complete such houses and apartments. Except in "unusual circumstances" these applications will not be approved if the proposed sales price is over $15,000, or the rent is more than $120 a unit a month.

3. Reconstruction or repair of dwellings destroyed by fire or similar disaster where such work is necessary to eliminate hardship. In cases involving rebuilding or more than half of a structure, the sales price will be limited to $10,000 and the rent to $80, except where "great hardship" would result.

4. Repair or alterations of dwellings either to maintain them or to return to a habitable condition or to provide space for additional persons. Priorities assistances will not be granted unless it has been vacant for six months for lack of repairs.

Tire Industry Probe

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—A government investigation of the rubber tire industry to determine whether there had been anti-trust violations began today, Attorney General Tom Clark announced.

Clark said the inquiry, involving companies in all sections of the country, was started by a federal grand jury in New York city.

One-Year Extension of Draft Is Approved by Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The full one-year draft extension the armed services seek was approved by the Senate military committee today, and five different pay increase proposals were showered onto the floors of Congress.

The Senate committee, unable to decide upon any particular one, reported four of them for consideration by the full Senate and tied three of them in with the draft extension itself.

A House Military subcommittee recommended the fifth, as a bill apart from the draft. In a separate measure, the House committee has approved a nine-month extension of the draft, now due to expire May 15, and this will come up in the House tomorrow.

The House group's pay increase plan would raise the pay of privates from $50 to $75 a month and give proportionately smaller increases to all other enlisted men and officers up to colonel. This replaced a measure approved by the subcommittee yesterday which would have provided a flat $400 a year raise for all servicemen.

The Senate committee, in an action which Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) conceded was highly unusual, reported the floor measures which would provide:

1. Pay increases for enlisted men only, ranging from $15 a month for privates down to $2 for top sergeants.

2. Similar increases, but as a measure separate from the draft extension.

3. An extra $50 a month for all officers and men serving at sea outside the United States.

4. A twenty per cent increase for all officers and men.

The one-year draft extension which the committee approved was technically a bill by Sen. Gurney (R-SD) providing as well for the $15 boost for privates and smaller hikes for other enlisted men.

Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa) proposed to grant these increases separate from the draft act, and Sen. Maybank (D-SC) sponsored the flat $50 overseas payment. The army already pays twenty per cent extra for overseas duty.

President Says He Is Satisfied With Housing Bill

Coal Strike Is in Schwellenbach's Hands, Chief Executive States

WORLD FOOD OUTLOOK IS TERMED BRIGHTER

Truman Declines Comment on Ickes's Proposal Lewis Be "Smashed"

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—President Truman announced today that the deficit for this fiscal year would be $7,000,000,000 less than January estimates and "we are on the way toward a balanced budget."

He also expressed fresh views to his news conference on three measures pending in Congress.

HOUSING—He is satisfied with the housing bill as it passed the Senate yesterday. It lacks price control for existing homes but contains other features he recommended.

ARMY-NAVY MERGER — He thinks the sweeping bill drafted by a Senate Military subcommittee has a lot of good points but he reserves comment on it as a whole until Congress finally passes it.

POLL TAX—He still favors federal anti-poll tax legislation.

Ready for Poll Tax Question

The chief executive was ready for questions about his poll tax stand following his remark in Chicago last Saturday that it was a matter the states would have to work out for themselves. He had a statement prepared which said he had not changed his stand in favor of federal action to outlaw the poll tax but that he favored state action as well.

The question about unification of the armed forces touched off a stern presidential dressing down to the navy for lobbying against the proposal. The commander-in-chief had set the policy, he asserted, and the navy was not justified in fighting it.

Mindful that Mr. Truman took over from President Roosevelt just one year ago tomorrow, reporters asked for his appraisal of his first year. The former vice president replied that they could take their choice of those already made—that is what he does.

He did say, though, that he felt better physically now than he had when he took office. And he recalled the motto about the first year being the hardest and voiced hope that the rest of them would not be any harder.

News-Packed Session

The news-packed session ranged over a variety of matters.

1. The coal strike is entirely in the hands of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach. The president declined with a laugh to comment on Harold L. Ickes's suggestion that John L. Lewis be "smashed."

2. The food outlook for the world is brighter as a result of rains in India and good grain crop prospects in North Africa and France but the next ninety days will be critical.

3. Gen. George C. Marshall has been very successful in his conferences here—the details were not disclosed—and is returning to China.

4. The president supports Lewis W. Douglas for head of the world bank. His comment on criticism of Douglas by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., former secretary of the treasury, was that Morgenthau was no longer in the government.

Envoy Is Confirmed

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The Senate today confirmed George S. Messersmith, former ambassador to Mexico, as ambassador to Argentina.

Confirmation also was voted for Maj. Gen. John H. Hilldring as assistant secretary of state.

Case of Attempted Fong Ouster May Be Given to United Nations

OAKLAND, Calif., April 1 (AP)—The Fong dispute with members of the Oak Knoll Improvement Club over alleged racial discrimination may be submitted to the United Nations, Horace Y. M. Fong's attorney announced today.

Fifteen "does" are specified in a court action brought by Mrs. Ann Fong, pretty 26-year-old blonde American wife of the Chinese-American navy veteran, as instigators of a move to force them out of their $20,000 home in the fashionable Oak Knoll section because they are not "Caucasians."

The club, although not specially named in the restraining action, acknowledged as much today when its president said the club's plans would not be altered by Mrs. Fong's complaint in superior court.

Meanwhile, Attorney Melvin M. Belli, San Francisco, chief of legal counsel for the Fongs, said he planned to send a telegram shortly to the United Nations Council and request that the attempted Fong ouster be put on its agenda.

Officers of the Oak Knoll Improvement Club, Inc., reacted cooly, "Absurd," said Benjamin I. Clark, chairman of the restrictions committee.

"The Fongs are just trying to make a three-ring circus of the matter," declared Vice President E. C. Saudek.

Mrs. Fong's complaint ran to eight pages, and listed her husband as an American Indian by virtue of an 1854 California Supreme Court decision holding that "a Chinese is an American Indian."

Efforts to oust him, therefore, "will violate the 1796 Iroquois Nations treaty and start another war with the Indians."

Self-Supporting Utility

RIDGELY, Md., April 11 (AP) — The Ridgely town commissioners announced they had decided to make the water department a self-supporting utility without further burdening the taxpaying citizens with its deficit and subsequent curtailments of needed improvements. A review of town affairs, coupled with the annual report of the auditor, showed the water department was not self-sustaining and that its revenue from rentals failed to equal department expenses.

Local Taxation Gets Some Help

A RECENT DECISION by the federal supreme court regarding a long mooted question of local taxation of property held by the federal government will probably have some far-reaching results in returning property to local tax bases.

The decision confirmed the right of Ramsey county, Minn., (St. Paul) to levy taxes on property sold by the federal goverment to private interests on the installment plan. In consequence, legislative action is expected in many states toward getting hitherto tax-exempt properties back on the local tax lists.

The National Association of Assessing Officers states that the decision will permit state and local governments to tax properties hereafter sold by the federal government to private owners on a time-payment basis. The decision permits taxation of such real estate as soon as the land contract has been signed, rather than being deferred until the final payment has been made and the title given to the new owners.

Ramsey county revenues will be increased more than $100,000 by the decision. The sum includes assessments covering the time elapsed since the property—an old post office—was sold into private ownership in 1939. At that time, the county assessed the premises at full value. Litigation began when the new owners claimed that since title to the property was still held by the federal government, it was immune to taxation.

The county took its case against the purchasers to the state supreme court in 1942 after losing in the district court. The higher tribunal ruled in favor of the county, to the effect that since the new owner "is in complete possession, and is enjoying full use, of the property as a commercial enterprise in competition with other like real estate in St. Paul, . . . it would seem that this property should bear its just proportion of the public tax burden." The United States supreme court has upheld this judgment.

In recent years several states have abolished blanket exemptions to property owned by the federal government. In the last year, Alabama, West Virginia, New Hampshire and Connecticut removed such prohibitions from their tax laws. In Utah and Washington, constitutional amendments to remove similar exemptions will be voted on this fall.

Many properties in which the federal government has taken a hand as the result of the depression and the war should be on local tax lists, particularly those not having directly to do with the public service. Their exemption has been a hardship upon local governmental units, which are obliged to maintain services benefiting the properties involved.

Meat Situation Badly Tangled

IN TRYING to straighten out the mess in meat, the OPA is up against as tangled a situation as this country ever saw. Beef supplies are equal to a per capita consumption of sixty-three pounds, which is sixteen per cent above 1945, but some retailers say their stocks are only ten per cent of normal.

Packers are buying fewer cattle than at any time in the history of their industry. Black market buyers are siphoning the beef from the stockyards at high prices and there is little left for the large processors. It is alleged there are ten times as many non-federally inspected slaughter houses as there were six months ago.

The OPA has increased the personal of its meat and dairy enforcement section by eighty per cent and has extended its authority to include most of the active meat centers. Wartime slaughter controls are again invoked. It is the only solution the government has to ameliorate the "scarcity" of a product that is in good supply.

Controls impede the flow of the supply and there is widespread activity to get the product to the areas where it is in demand at higher prices. Competitive controls work out this problem simply and effectively. It is yet to be demonstrated that government controls can do so, but before the bureaucrats finally admit defeat they will probably attempt to reinstate rationing of a product in which there is no shortage.

Tuberculosis Can Be Cured

(A guest editorial by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.)

TUBERCULOSIS is called an insidious disease because it steals upon its victim unawares. Often it is well developed before symptoms appear.

It may attack any part of the body but most frequently it affects the lungs and it is called pulmonary tuberculosis. When tuberculosis germs reach the lung, the body fights back and usually succeeds in imprisoning the germs. If the prison wall breaks down or if succeeding infection occurs, the germs multiply and spread. All this time the individual may not know of the battle going on within his body. Months may pass before the disease reaches the point where definite outward symptoms are apparent and the individual knows he is ill.

Yes, tuberculosis is an insidious disease. By the time the victim realizes he is ill, grave damage may have been done his lung. This damage might have been discovered earlier by an X-ray, but if this precaution was neglected and the disease has reached an advanced stage, the process of recovery is slow.

Both patients and their families are constantly asking doctors if there is not some quick cure for tuberculosis, some medicine or drug that can be taken to kill the germs and speed recovery. Unfortunately, the answer is, "No."

Despite years of research, despite painstaking experiments, scientists have not yet found a drug that will kill tuberculosis germs after they enter the human body or that will heal areas of the lung destroyed by the disease. The search for such a drug is still on and undoubtedly will one day be crowned with success.

Meanwhile, the only cure for pulmonary tuberculosis is rest. Real rest. That does not mean just "taking it easy." It means staying in bed twenty-four hours a day and resting while in bed. Any undue exertion on the part of the patient places a strain on the diseased lung which delays the healing process.

Complete rest can best be obtained in a tuberculosis hospital. Here the patient is under expert medical supervision at all times. He is taught how to relax and how to care for himself with a minimum of exertion. He is also given the proper food and the nursing care needed to build up strength and help him fight the disease.

For the patient's own welfare he should enter a sanatorium for treatment. He should also accept this type of care for the protection of his family and associates. Necessary safeguards are taken in a hospital to prevent the spread of disease, whereas in the home it is very difficult to protect others from the germs which the patient may cough up or which may cling to dishes or linen used by him.

People often think they can rest at home, but actually there are many distractions in the home. Again and again the patient will find an excuse to get up to speak to a visitor or to join the family at a meal. The safest thing for the patient and the family is to undergo treatment in a tuberculosis hospital.

Patriotic Songs Need A Peacetime Theme

WITH THE IDEA that music is a prime element in patriotism, the Music Educators National Conference has looked into the American portfolio of patriotic airs in a serious way and has emerged with an approved list. A special committee has labeled four "essential"—the "Star-Spangled Banner," "America," "America the Beautiful" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

And lest the resounding strains of the big four should prove insufficient to prevent a possible postwar slump in national fervor, the music masters come up with the following as "optional"—"God Bless America," "Hail Columbia," "Taps," "Tenting Tonight" and "Grand Old Flag." These are declared "desirable"—"Air Corps Song," "Field Artillery Song," "Dixie," "Marine Hymn," "Over There," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and "Yankee Doodle." Labeled "too sectional" is "Marching Through Georgia."

Nearly all these songs of America were born out of the tear-dimmed inspiration of wartime. Can not the pride of country that brings a lump to the throat be also expressed in a great national anthem of peacetime? Patriotism belong not alone to war.

Railroad Earnings Hinge on Higher Rates and Volume

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., April 11—War came to the rescue of the railroads. The decline in traffic and earnings which had persisted since the 30's ceased. Volume of traffic and net income reached new peaks. However, the real worth of rail securities must be judged, not on past, but on future, performances. Several things must be considered when making a decision on railroad earning power: volume of traffic, operating expenses, taxes, bond interest and rate changes.

Traffic Outlook

Volume of freight traffic varies in proportion to business activity. Before the war, their competitors (trucks, automobiles, pipe lines, shipping and airplanes) had cut into the railroads' revenues. However, the war helped the railroads and hurt the other carriers. The railroads, moreover, need no time to adjust themselves to peacetime operations. A pent-up demand for goods, with the greatest cash reserves in many years, should insure good business activity and thus a large volume of freight. Passenger traffic should also be good for awhile in spite of auto and air competition.

The Federal Reserve Board's Index of Industrial Production shows an increase from 110 in 1929 to 171 in 1941. In line with these increases, railway freight traffic jumped to a new prewar peak in 1941 with an increase of twenty-five billion tonmiles carried over those of 1929. It certainly seems that the railroads could count upon at least their prewar gross traffic which gave them $500,000,000 net in 1941.

Earnings Increase Indicated

The department of Commerce estimates a "gross national product" of $150,000,000,000 for 1947. This could produce an increase in railroad gross earnings over 1941 of five per cent for 1947. This is especially interesting when we note that the 1944 figure for our gross national product was $195,000,000,000.

Thus we can get a five per cent increase in railroad earnings even with a decline of $45,000,000,000 in total national income. Predictions, therefore, point to a greater volume of railway traffic during the next few years than in the peak peacetime year of 1941.

Higher Costs Inevitable

We must, however, remember that there has been a twenty per cent increase in wages since 1941 which will absorb $300,000,000 in 1947. A price rise in items essential to the railroads, such as lumber, steel and coal, will add to the increased costs due to wages.

The greater operating efficiency attained during the war carried over into peacetime economy should help overcome the wage increases granted between 1941 and 1946, amounting to twenty per cent. We must ask ourselves, however, how much more wages will be increased during the next year or two.

Fixed Charges Lower

We find that the $500,000,000 net income of 1941 with the wage and price increases which will have occurred since that date will be highly inadequate to meet 1947 operating expenses. If railroad net income is to be maintained, business activity must remain well above the 1941 level and an increase in rates will be needed in addition. Whether the public is in a mood to accept such is any reader's guess.

The railroads are in a much stronger position now than in prewar years, since they have used $2,500,000,000 of their war earnings to decrease their debt. Consequently, their fixed charges have perhaps declined $200,000,000 a year. They have also increased their net working capital from a 1941 level of $600,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 in 1946.

Conclusion

It is evident that railroad net earnings will hinge on both higher rates and an expanded volume of traffic. If the next several years favor both these factors, railroad net income should remain fairly good. However, is it smart to bet on the possibility of both higher rates and a high volume of traffic when railroad securities are now selling so comparatively high?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

First Year after Roosevelt Would Have Been Same under Wallace, Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 11.—It has now been one year since Harry Truman rushed down Pennsylvania avenue to a saddened White House and the awesome task of filling the shoes of Franklin Roosevelt.

A great deal has been written, and more will be, about the manner in which he has done that job. Among those close to Roosevelt there has also been speculation as to what would have happened if Sen. Sam Jackson, of Indiana, had not rapped the gavel on that hot July night in Chicago, adjourning the Democratic convention just as the Wallace band-wagon seemed on the verge of rolling him into the vice presidency.

In other words, if Henry Wallace had been president of the United States, would the first year since Roosevelt's death have been much different? How much did Sam Jackson's gavel-rapping tactics change the course of history?

Would History Have Been Different?

Some changes, of course, would have been certain. Sumner Welles today would be secretary of state, with Harold Young, not Bob Hannegan, the postmaster general. Wallace's press relations would have been worse than Truman's, his radio appeal to the public much more effective. Wallace would have slugged a few of his pet hates — photographers; would have had more professors instead of Missouri werewolves around him; would have had just as much labor trouble, though might have been better at solving it.

Our difficulties with Russia would have been just as great, and it's doubtful whether the outcome would have been different. Wallace would have gone in for brain-trusts rather than poker parties, would not have supported the draft, and would have conducted a more efficient administration. Having grown up in the cabinet (his father was secretary of agriculture under Harding) and having spent eight years in the cabinet himself, Wallace is recognized even by his enemies as one of the best administrators in government.

But regarding the basic problem of uniting the country, Wallace's troubles would have been the same as Truman's. His split with the southern bloc would have come earlier, but the end result would have been identical. Even had Roosevelt lived, this battle probably was inevitable.

In fact, when you read history, the conclusion is inescapable that most of the things now happening in the USA today would have happened anyway. Not even Roosevelt, had he lived, could have pushed the tide of history out of its customary channel—away from the trend to inflation, labor disputes, bickering with our one-time allies, debates over the army, the inevitable readjustment which follows war.

Truman's Cabinet Meetings

The contrasts are sharp, however, between many Roosevelt methods and those of Harry Truman. Sharpest is revealed at cabinet meetings.

Under Roosevelt, cabinet meetings were long and leisurely, sometimes lasting two hours, with everyone given plenty of time to get things off his chest. Roosevelt, it is true, frequently monopolized the conversation, lived to tell stories of the past. But no cabinet meeting ever ended if any member still had more he wanted to say.

Not so with Truman. He watches the clock. His cabinet meetings last exactly one hour, and if anyone is still speaking as the minute hand approaches the hour, Harry Truman starts to rise. And if any member of his official family is still speaking, the impression is given that the president of the United States is about to walk off and let him talk to an empty room. So far cabinet members always have taken the hint.

Net result, however, is that cabinet debates are brief and to the point. Important policy matters are not deeply discussed. Some cabinet members act as in a poker game, play their cards close to their chest, almost fearful a colleague will discover their next move. They prefer to talk privately with the president.

Only one man who seems willing to talk at length during cabinet meetings is Secretary of State Byrnes, who from his wealth of experience as senator, supreme court justice and war mobilizer, is the most experienced man in the cabinet. Byrnes speaks out on various matters.

Weekly cabinet luncheons are less stiff and formal. There, cabineteers unbend. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson usually comes loaded with a memo or two he pulls from his pocket at the psychological moment and hands to the president. These weekly luncheons are an innovation for which Truman himself is responsible. They are a refreshing contrast to cabinet formality, and he deserves credit for initiating them.

White House Night Work

Biggest change that has come over the White House in the past year pertains to presidential methods of work. The job of running the far-flung affairs of the United States government is a back-breaking, time-consuming task. It has killed many men, ruined the health of others. Anyone who steps across the threshold of the White House can expect to have ten years cut from his life when he comes out—if he lives to make the exit.

Considering all things, Roosevelt stood the strain miraculously. For in addition to grueling daytime hours, he spent five nights a week in the Lincoln study working until after midnight.

Some of Roosevelt's most important conferences took place at night. In the early days of the New Deal, the so-called brain-trust met with him almost every evening. Later, many of his war-strategy meetings lasted far into the night. Even his Sunday-night suppers, at which Mrs. Roosevelt scrambled eggs in a chafing dish, featured guests who could contribute new governmental ideas.

Truman's routine is different. He has thrown into the discard the old White House tradition that the president of the United States does not go out to dinner. His taste for spending evenings out is an insatiable as a housewife's on the maid's day off. After dinner he would rather relax at the piano or a poker game than study governmental reports. And the men around him seem hand-picked because their tastes are similar.

Lonely FDR

One evening while Roosevelt was living, Ed McGrady came over to the residence part of the White House to confer with the president on a troublesome strike problem. It was after 11 p. m. He walked along the thick carpeted corridor outside the Lincoln study. The president did not hear him. As McGrady came to the door, which was open, he glanced inside.

The room was dark except for one lamp on Roosevelt's desk which illuminated his face as if in a stage setting. The president sat there, gazing off into space. He was not reading, he was not smoking, he was thinking. A man surrounded by people, problems, and war—and completely alone.

That is the biggest change that has taken place in the White House since April 12, 1945.

Companionship

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

I wonder if we are not losing out on one of the most inspiring of all relationships—that of genuine companionship. It's much more elastic than mere friendship. There is an intimate charm to the very sound of the word, for it suggests closeness and unity of thought and association.

Unions can be made between parties, but without companionship. It goes further than mere union. It suggests a co-operation of mental and spiritual forces. Companionship between nations would mean no quarrelling, no mistrust, no envy, and no name calling. Companionship suggests a higher level of attainment.

For years I have remembered a remark that I overheard from a returning group of golfers. One man said: "Well, next to having won the game oneself is to lose a delightful companion." You see, there is length and breadth to companionship. In marriage it is the one eternal binding that keeps love green and fragrant.

You read in the newspaper advertisements for "a companion". Loneliness is devastating. We want some one near to us, to be a companion, to talk to, to relate our problems to, to counsel with us, to set us on right paths, and to cheer us when we are low. The companion fulfills a dozen or more delightful duties, and they are delightful, if the companion is a true and genuine one.

A mere associate in business may not prove to be a good companion. Companionship suggests so much more—it has enduring qualities to it. Companionship can even be carried into the realm of Nature, where all its fascinating and intriguing forces attract the mind and interest. W. H. Hudson, the great naturalist, brings out this idea in his character of Rima, the "bird woman", whose companionship with all the animate, and inanimate, in nature, were of her one great part. It is all told in Hudson's beautiful book, "Green Mansions."

Thoreau's human companions were limted, but not those that filled his mind and heart all the days of his life, and whose relationships have filled the pages of his books, so eagerly read today, enriching all literature for all time.

Local Taxation Gets Some Help

A RECENT DECISION by the federal supreme court regarding a long mooted question of local taxation of property held by the federal government will probably have some far-reaching results in returning property to local tax bases.

The decision confirmed the right of Ramsey county, Minn., (St. Paul) to levy taxes on property sold by the federal goverment to private interests on the installment plan. In consequence, legislative action is expected in many states toward getting hitherto tax-exempt properties back on the local tax lists.

The National Association of Assessing Officers states that the decision will permit state and local governments to tax properties hereafter sold by the federal government to private owners on a time-payment basis. The decision permits taxation of such real estate as soon as the land contract has been signed, rather than being deferred until the final payment has been made and the title given to the new owners.

Ramsey county revenues will be increased more than $100,000 by the decision. The sum includes assessments covering the time elapsed since the property—an old post office—was sold into private ownership in 1939. At that time, the county assessed the premises at full value. Litigation began when the new owners claimed that since title to the property was still held by the federal government, it was immune to taxation.

The county took its case against the purchasers to the state supreme court in 1942 after losing in the district court. The higher tribunal ruled in favor of the county, to the effect that since the new owner "is in complete possession, and is enjoying full use, of the property as a commercial enterprise in competition with other like real estate in St. Paul, . . . it would seem that this property should bear its just proportion of the public tax burden." The United States supreme court has upheld this judgment.

In recent years several states have abolished blanket exemptions to property owned by the federal government. In the last year, Alabama, West Virginia, New Hampshire and Connecticut removed such prohibitions from their tax laws. In Utah and Washington, constitutional amendments to remove similar exemptions will be voted on this fall.

Many properties in which the federal government has taken a hand as the result of the depression and the war should be on local tax lists, particularly those not having directly to do with the public service. Their exemption has been a hardship upon local governmental units, which are obliged to maintain services benefiting the properties involved.

Meat Situation Badly Tangled

IN TRYING to straighten out the mess in meat, the OPA is up against as tangled a situation as this country ever saw. Beef supplies are equal to a per capita consumption of sixty-three pounds, which is sixteen per cent above 1945, but some retailers say their stocks are only ten per cent of normal.

Packers are buying fewer cattle than at any time in the history of their industry. Black market buyers are siphoning the beef from the stockyards at high prices and there is little left for the large processors. It is alleged there are ten times as many non-federally inspected slaughter houses as there were six months ago.

The OPA has increased the personal of its meat and dairy enforcement section by eighty per cent and has extended its authority to include most of the active meat centers. Wartime slaughter controls are again invoked. It is the only solution the government has to ameliorate the "scarcity" of a product that is in good supply.

Controls impede the flow of the supply and there is widespread activity to get the product to the areas where it is in demand at higher prices. Competitive controls work out this problem simply and effectively. It is yet to be demonstrated that government controls can do so, but before the bureaucrats finally admit defeat they will probably attempt to reinstate rationing of a product in which there is no shortage.

Tuberculosis Can Be Cured

(A guest editorial by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.)

TUBERCULOSIS is called an insidious disease because it steals upon its victim unawares. Often it is well developed before symptoms appear.

It may attack any part of the body but most frequently it affects the lungs and it is called pulmonary tuberculosis. When tuberculosis germs reach the lung, the body fights back and usually succeeds in imprisoning the germs. If the prison wall breaks down or if succeeding infection occurs, the germs multiply and spread. All this time the individual may not know of the battle going on within his body. Months may pass before the disease reaches the point where definite outward symptoms are apparent and the individual knows he is ill.

Yes, tuberculosis is an insidious disease. By the time the victim realizes he is ill, grave damage may have been done his lung. This damage might have been discovered earlier by an X-ray, but if this precaution was neglected and the disease has reached an advanced stage, the process of recovery is slow.

Both patients and their families are constantly asking doctors if there is not some quick cure for tuberculosis, some medicine or drug that can be taken to kill the germs and speed recovery. Unfortunately, the answer is, "No."

Despite years of research, despite painstaking experiments, scientists have not yet found a drug that will kill tuberculosis germs after they enter the human body or that will heal areas of the lung destroyed by the disease. The search for such a drug is still on and undoubtedly will one day be crowned with success.

Meanwhile, the only cure for pulmonary tuberculosis is rest. Real rest. That does not mean just "taking it easy." It means staying in bed twenty-four hours a day and resting while in bed. Any undue exertion on the part of the patient places a strain on the diseased lung which delays the healing process.

Complete rest can best be obtained in a tuberculosis hospital. Here the patient is under expert medical supervision at all times. He is taught how to relax and how to care for himself with a minimum of exertion. He is also given the proper food and the nursing care needed to build up strength and help him fight the disease.

For the patient's own welfare he should enter a sanatorium for treatment. He should also accept this type of care for the protection of his family and associates. Necessary safeguards are taken in a hospital to prevent the spread of disease, whereas in the home it is very difficult to protect others from the germs which the patient may cough up or which may cling to dishes or linen used by him.

People often think they can rest at home, but actually there are many distractions in the home. Again and again the patient will find an excuse to get up to speak to a visitor or to join the family at a meal. The safest thing for the patient and the family is to undergo treatment in a tuberculosis hospital.

Patriotic Songs Need A Peacetime Theme

WITH THE IDEA that music is a prime element in patriotism, the Music Educators National Conference has looked into the American portfolio of patriotic airs in a serious way and has emerged with an approved list. A special committee has labeled four "essential"—the "Star-Spangled Banner," "America," "America the Beautiful" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

And lest the resounding strains of the big four should prove insufficient to prevent a possible postwar slump in national fervor, the music masters come up with the following as "optional"—"God Bless America," "Hail Columbia," "Taps," "Tenting Tonight" and "Grand Old Flag." These are declared "desirable"—"Air Corps Song," "Field Artillery Song," "Dixie," "Marine Hymn," "Over There," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and "Yankee Doodle." Labeled "too sectional" is "Marching Through Georgia."

Nearly all these songs of America were born out of the tear-dimmed inspiration of wartime. Can not the pride of country that brings a lump to the throat be also expressed in a great national anthem of peacetime? Patriotism belong not alone to war.

Railroad Earnings Hinge on Higher Rates and Volume

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., April 11—War came to the rescue of the railroads. The decline in traffic and earnings which had persisted since the 30's ceased. Volume of traffic and net income reached new peaks. However, the real worth of rail securities must be judged, not on past, but on future, performances. Several things must be considered when making a decision on railroad earning power: volume of traffic, operating expenses, taxes, bond interest and rate changes.

Traffic Outlook

Volume of freight traffic varies in proportion to business activity. Before the war, their competitors (trucks, automobiles, pipe lines, shipping and airplanes) had cut into the railroads' revenues. However, the war helped the railroads and hurt the other carriers. The railroads, moreover, need no time to adjust themselves to peacetime operations. A pent-up demand for goods, with the greatest cash reserves in many years, should insure good business activity and thus a large volume of freight. Passenger traffic should also be good for awhile in spite of auto and air competition.

The Federal Reserve Board's Index of Industrial Production shows an increase from 110 in 1929 to 171 in 1941. In line with these increases, railway freight traffic jumped to a new prewar peak in 1941 with an increase of twenty-five billion ton-miles carried over those of 1929. It certainly seems that the railroads could count upon at least their prewar gross traffic which gave them $500,000,000 net in 1941.

Earnings Increase Indicated

The department of Commerce estimates a "gross national product" of $150,000,000,000 for 1947. This could produce an increase in railroad gross earnings over 1941 of five per cent for 1947. This is especially interesting when we note that the 1944 figure for our gross national product was $195,000,000,000.

Thus we can get a five per cent increase in railroad earnings even with a decline of $45,000,000,000 in total national income. Predictions, therefore, point to a greater volume of railway traffic during the next few years than in the peak peacetime year of 1941.

Higher Costs Inevitable

We must, however, remember that there has been a twenty per cent increase in wages since 1941 which will absorb $300,000,000 in 1947. A price rise in items essential to the railroads, such as lumber, steel and coal, will add to the increased costs due to wages.

The greater operating efficiency attained during the war carried over into peacetime economy should help overcome the wage increases granted between 1941 and 1946, amounting to twenty per cent. We must ask ourselves, however, how much more wages will be increased during the next year or two.

Fixed Charges Lower

We find that the $500,000,000 net income of 1941 with the wage and price increases which will have occurred since that date will be highly inadequate to meet 1947 operating expenses. If railroad net income is to be maintained, business activity must remain well above the 1941 level and an increase in rates will be needed in addition. Whether the public is in a mood to accept such is any reader's guess.

The railroads are in a much stronger position now than in prewar years, since they have used $2,500,000,000 of their war earnings to decrease their debt. Consequently, their fixed charges have perhaps declined $200,000,000 a year. They have also increased their net working capital from a 1941 level of $600,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 in 1946.

Conclusion

It is evident that railroad net earnings will hinge on both higher rates and an expanded volume of traffic. If the next several years favor both these factors, railroad net income should remain fairly good. However, is it smart to bet on the possibility of both higher rates and a high volume of traffic when railroad securities are now selling so comparatively high?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

First Year after Roosevelt Would Have Been Same under Wallace, Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 11.—It has now been one year since Harry Truman rushed down Pennsylvania avenue to a saddened White House and the awesome task of filling the shoes of Franklin Roosevelt.

A great deal has been written, and more will be, about the manner in which he has done that job. Among those close to Roosevelt there has also been speculation as to what would have happened if Sen. Sam Jackson, of Indiana, had not rapped the gavel on that hot July night in Chicago, adjourning the Democratic convention just as the Wallace band-wagon seemed on the verge of rolling him into the vice presidency.

In other words, if Henry Wallace had been president of the United States, would the first year since Roosevelt's death have been much different? How much did Sam Jackson's gavel-rapping tactics change the course of history?

Would History Have Been Different?

Some changes, of course, would have been certain. Sumner Welles today would be secretary of state, with Harold Young, not Bob Hannegan, the postmaster general. Wallace's press relations would have been worse than Truman's, his radio appeal to the public much more effective. Wallace would have slugged a few of his pet hates — photographers; would have had more professors instead of Missouri werewolves around him; would have had just as much labor trouble, though might have been better at solving it.

Our difficulties with Russia would have been just as great, and it's doubtful whether the outcome would have been different. Wallace would have gone in for brain-trusts rather than poker parties, would not have supported the draft, and would have conducted a more efficient administration. Having grown up in the cabinet (his father was secretary of agriculture under Harding) and having spent eight years in the cabinet himself, Wallace is recognized even by his enemies as one of the best administrators in government.

But regarding the basic problem of uniting the country, Wallace's troubles would have been the same as Truman's. His split with the southern bloc would have come earlier, but the end result would have been identical. Even had Roosevelt lived, this battle probably was inevitable.

In fact, when you read history the conclusion is inescapable that most of the things now happening in the USA today would have happened anyway. Not even Roosevelt, had he lived, could have pushed the tide of history out of its customary channel—away from the trend to inflation, labor disputes, bickering with our one-time allies, debates over the army, the inevitable readjustment which follows war.

Truman's Cabinet Meetings

The contrasts are sharp, however, between many Roosevelt methods and those of Harry Truman. Sharpest is revealed at cabinet meetings.

Under Roosevelt, cabinet meetings were long and leisurely, sometimes lasting two hours, with everyone given plenty of time to get things off his chest. Roosevelt, it is true, frequently monopolized the conversation, lived to tell stories of the past. But no cabinet meeting ever ended if any member still had more he wanted to say.

Not so with Truman. He watches the clock. His cabinet meetings last exactly one hour, and if anyone is still speaking as the minute hand approaches the hour, Harry Truman starts to rise. And if any member of his official family is still speaking, the impression is given that the president of the United States is about to walk off and let him talk to an empty room. So far cabinet members always have taken the hint.

Net result, however, is that cabinet debates are brief and to the point. Important policy matters are not deeply discussed. Some cabinet members act as in a poker game, play their cards close to their chest, almost fearful a colleague will discover their next move. They prefer to talk privately with the president.

Only one man who seems willing to talk at length during cabinet meetings is Secretary of State Byrnes, who from his wealth of experience as senator, supreme court justice and war mobilizer, is the most experienced man in the cabinet. Byrnes speaks out on various matters.

Weekly cabinet luncheons are less stiff and formal. There, cabineteers unbend. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson usually comes loaded with a memo or two he pulls from his pocket at the psychological moment and hands to the president. These weekly luncheons are an innovation for which Truman himself is responsible. They are a refreshing contrast to cabinet formality, and he deserves credit for initiating them.

White House Night Work

Biggest change that has come over the White House in the past year pertains to presidential methods of work. The job of running the far-flung affairs of the United States government is a back-breaking, time-consuming task. It has killed many men, ruined the health of others. Anyone who steps across the threshold of the White House can expect to have ten years cut from his life when he comes out—if he lives to make the exit.

Considering all things, Roosevelt stood the strain miraculously. For in addition to grueling daytime hours, he spent five nights a week in the Lincoln study working until after midnight.

Some of Roosevelt's most important conferences took place at night. In the early days of the New Deal, the so-called brain-trust met with him almost every evening. Later, many of his war-strategy meetings lasted far into the night. Even his Sunday-night suppers, at which Mrs. Roosevelt scrambled eggs in a chafing dish, featured guests who could contribute new governmental ideas.

Truman's routine is different. He has thrown into the discard the old White House tradition that the president of the United States does not go out to dinner. His taste for spending evenings out is an insatiable as a housewife's on the maid's day off. After dinner he would rather relax at the piano or a poker game than study governmental reports. And the men around him seem hand-picked because their tastes are similar.

Lonely FDR

One evening while Roosevelt was living, Ed McGrady came over to the residence part of the White House to confer with the president on a troublesome strike problem. It was after 11 p. m. He walked along the thick carpeted corridor outside the Lincoln study. The president did not hear him. As McGrady came to the door, which was open, he glanced inside.

The room was dark except for one lamp on Roosevelt's desk which illuminated his face as if in a stage setting. The president sat there, gazing off into space. He was not reading, he was not smoking, he was thinking. A man surrounded by people, problems, and war—and completely alone.

That is the biggest change that has taken place in the White House since April 12, 1945.

Companionship

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

I wonder if we are not losing out on one of the most inspiring of all relationships—that of genuine companionship. It's much more elastic than mere friendship. There is an intimate charm to the very sound of the word, for it suggests closeness and unity of thought and association.

Unions can be made between parties, but without companionship. It goes further than mere union. It suggests a co-operation of mental and spiritual forces. Companionship between nations would mean no quarrelling, no mistrust, no envy, and no name calling. Companionship suggests a higher level of attainment.

For years I have remembered a remark that I overheard from a returning group of golfers. One man said: "Well, next to having won the game oneself is to lose a delightful companion." You see, there is length and breadth to companionship. In marriage it is the one eternal binding that keeps love green and fragrant.

You read in the newspaper advertisements for "a companion". Loneliness is devastating. We want some one near to us, to be a companion, to talk to, to relate our problems to, to counsel with us, to set us on right paths, and to cheer us when we are low. The companion fulfills a dozen or more delightful duties, and they are delightful, if the companion is a true and genuine one.

A mere associate in business may not prove to be a good companion. Companionship suggests so much more—it has enduring qualities to it. Companionship can even be carried into the realm of Nature, where all its fascinating and intriguing forces attract the mind and interest. W. H. Hudson, the great naturalist, brings out this idea in his character of Rima, the "bird woman", whose companionship with all the animate, and inanimate, in nature, were of her one great part. It is all told in Hudson's beautiful book, "Green Mansions."

Thoreau's human companions were limted, but not those that filled his mind and heart all the days of his life, and whose relationships have filled the pages of his books, so eagerly read today, enriching all literature for all time.

Smith also said that Lt. James Satkin, naval aviator, will be here today and tomorrow to address local high schools regarding the Navy V-5 aviation program. Lt. Satkin will speak in Ridgeley, W. Va., high school this afternoon and at Allegany high school tomorrow.

Improper Assessment

BALTIMORE, April 11 (AP)—Judge Emory H. Niles ruled yesterday in state circuit court that the state tax commission had improperly assessed the Western Maryland Railway Company by nearly $147,000 on taxes for 1942-44.

The judge's ruling said the tax commission must base its assessment of the Maryland portion of the company' total receipts on "length of main track" rather than "length of all track."

Union Grove Club Makes Contribution To Cancer Clinic

A contribution of $2 was voted for the cancer clinic, by members of the Union Grove Homemakers Club at the meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. L. Sweitzer, Mill road. The group also decided to take $50 from the treasury, to assist in paying the expenses of members attending the Rural Women's Short Course meeting at College Park in June; following a talk by Mrs. George Yeargan, RWSC chairman, about the course. Registrations will be made at the May meeting.

Mrs. Edgar Vandegrift presided at the business session and spoke briefly of the county library bill. Mrs. William Rilling reported on the nutrition school held earlier this month at the Queen City hotel, and hints on food and housekeeping were given by members. Mrs. Rilling also outlined the plans made by the County Council for the first observance of the National Home Demonstration week, to be held May 5 to 12.

A demonstration on "Clothing Hints" was given by Mrs. John Hardinger, after which members gave fashion hints. Miss Nyna Fey talked on choosing hairdoes which are becoming to the individual and emphasized the importance of the care of the hair and the effect of health on the hair. Baltimore Judge Rules Election Law Invalid

BALTIMORE, April 11 (AP)—Judge Herman M. Moser ruled yesterday in Baltimore City Court that the election law forbidding a registered voter to change his party affiliation within six months of a primary election is invalid, since it permits "inequality of treatment."

The judge's decision came in a mandamus suit filed by Maj. Myer Geartner, Baltimore, who said he had been refused permission by the board of election supervisors to change his party allegiance from Republican to Democratic.

Judge Moser pointed out that the law allows a registered voter who professes no party affiliation or a new registrant to declare an affiliation within thirty days of a primary. The judge said the same privilege was denied to the affiliated voter.

Frostburg Group To Discuss Plans For Celebration

"Welcome Home" Event for Veterans Tentatively Set for Summer

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 11 — The board of directors of the Frostburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, consisting of the Rev. George L. Wehler, G. Franklin Martens, Walter Senters, Alex Densmore, Harold C. Carl, Kenneth Jenkins, William Thomas, Ray Layman, Charles N. Hill, Walter Kerr and Ralph M. Race, the latter a former state president of the Jaycees, will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the parsonage of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church to discuss tentative plans for holding a "Welcome Home" celebration this summer in honor of returned veterans of World War II.

A similar celebration was held in honor of veterans of World War I, September 15, 1919, under the auspices of the Frostburg branch of the county Red Cross chapter, by a committee consisting of A. C. Stewart, chairman; Charles S. Jeffries, secretary; G. Dud Hocking, treasurer; G. M. Gillette, Daniel Evans, John D. Keller, Patrick T. McGann, U. B. F. Edwards, Frank Watts, W. E. G. Hitchins, Charles Odgers, John L. Casey, Roberdeau Annan, David D. Price, Thomas G. Dillon and Olin R. Rice.

The occasion of the 1919 "Welcome Home" celebration, as recalled by older residents, was one of the most successful events in the history of the community and it is the aim of the Junior Chamber of Commerce either to sponsor or aid in promoting a similar event honoring the veterans of World War II.

One member of the 1919 committee, discussing that event last evening, recalled that at 6 o'clock on the morning of September 15, 1919, all church bells began to ring and that six trumpeters on black horses with decorated trappings rode over every street of the town, sounding a fanfare to announce the beginning of the town's celebration for the returned heroes of the war that was to end all wars.

Another member of the 1919 committee, speaking at a meeting of Frostburg City Lodge, Knights of Pythias, last evening, stated that the Consolidation Coal Company and other business concerns in the county where Frostburg and Georges creek men were employed, declared the day a holiday so as to make it easier for the war veterans to attend and enjoy the celebration.

A resolution presented by former Mayor Fred Crowe approving the action of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in offering aid in promoting a "Welcome Home" celebration of World War II veterans, was unanimously passed at a meeting of the Knights of Pythias last evening. It is expected that other fraternal and civic organizations in the community will take similar action.

Trees To Be Delivered

Harry Morgan, local 4-H leader, announced today that 3,000 trees will be delivered to the Piney Run watershed Saturday for the planting project that is to be carried out that day, under the direction of William Nace, district soil conservationist for Garrett county; W. H. Johnson, Cumberland, district forester; Joseph Steger, assistant county agent for Allegany county; and Charles Hager, local Boy Scout leader.

Morgan stated that a group of Boy Scouts and local 4-H boys will be taken to the area to assist in the work, which will require many more voluntary helpers if the trees are to be planted according to schedule.

Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore has offered the use of his car to haul volunteers to the Piney Run area, but stated that no city cars will be used, as the city would be liable for damages if anyone were injured en route to and from the project.

The city gave its approval at a special planting of the trees and offered all possible aid. The city's activities in connection with the tree planting project would come under the jurisdiction of the city water department, the mayor said.

Frostburg Group To Discuss Plans For Celebration

"Welcome Home" Event for Veterans Tentatively Set for Summer

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 11 — The board of directors of the Frostburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, consisting of the Rev. George L. Wehler, G. Franklin Martens, Walter Senters, Alex Densmore, Harold C. Carl, Kenneth Jenkins, William Thomas, Ray Layman, Charles N. Hill, Walter Kerr and Ralph M. Race, the latter a former state president of the Jaycees, will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the parsonage of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church to discuss tentative plans for holding a "Welcome Home" celebration this summer in honor of returned veterans of World War II.

A similar celebration was held in honor of veterans of World War I, September 15, 1919, under the auspices of the Frostburg branch of the county Red Cross chapter, by a committee consisting of A. C. Stewart, chairman; Charles S. Jeffries, secretary; G. Dud Hocking, treasurer; G. M. Gillette, Daniel Evans, John D. Keller, Patrick T. McGann, U. B. F. Edwards, Frank Watts, W. E. G. Hitchins, Charles Odgers, John L. Casey, Roberdeau Annan, David D. Price, Thomas G. Dillon and Olin R. Rice.

The occasion of the 1919 "Welcome Home" celebration, as recalled by older residents, was one of the most successful events in the history of the community and it is the aim of the Junior Chamber of Commerce either to sponsor or aid in promoting a similar event honoring the veterans of World War II.

One member of the 1919 committee, discussing that event last evening, recalled that at 6 o'clock on the morning of September 15, 1919, all church bells began to ring and that six trumpeters on black horses with decorated trappings rode over every street of the town, sounding a fanfare to announce the beginning of the town's celebration for the returned heroes of the war that was to end all wars.

Another member of the 1919 committee, speaking at a meeting of Frostburg City Lodge, Knights of Pythias, last evening, stated that the Consolidation Coal Company and other business concerns in the county where Frostburg and Georges creek men were employed, declared the day a holiday so as to make it easier for the war veterans to attend and enjoy the celebration.

A resolution presented by former Mayor Fred Crowe approving the action of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in offering aid in promoting a "Welcome Home" celebration of World War II veterans, was unanimously passed at a meeting of the Knights of Pythias last evening. It is expected that other fraternal and civic organizations in the community will take similar action.

Trees To Be Delivered

Harry Morgan, local 4-H leader, announced today that 3,000 trees will be delivered to the Piney Run watershed Saturday for the planting project that is to be carried out that day, under the direction of William Nace, district soil conservationist for Garrett county; W. Morgan stated that a group of Boy Scouts and local 4-H boys will be taken to the area to assist in the work, which will require many more voluntary helpers if the trees are to be planted according to schedule.

Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore has offered the use of his car to haul volunteers to the Piney Run area, but stated that no city cars will be used, as the city would be liable for damages if anyone were injured en route to and from the project.

The city gave its approval at a special planting of the trees and offered all possible aid. The city's activities in connection with the tree planting project would come under the jurisdiction of the city water department, the mayor said.

Australian Horse Still Works at 51

MELBOURNE, — (AP) — Australia claims to have the oldest horse still working in the world. He is Nigger, 51 years old, owned by John Croker of Footeray, suburb of Melbourne. Nigger does night work around building jobs.

Mrs. Croker, who bought Nigger in 1895, attributes the horse's long life to a special diet of chaff and charcoal. The charcoal, Mr. Croker says, purifies the blood and kills worms.

Broad-mindedness Toward Divorce Is Woman's Plea

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Much as we moderns pride ourselves on our broad-mindedness, there are some subjects on which our tolerance often seems no more than skin deep.

When we discuss these subjects we sound wonderful, and sincerely believe we're as tolerant as we sound. Theoretically, we bat 100 per cent in understanding the other fellow's point of view. Yet when it comes to putting our theories into practice, we fail so frequently and so miserably.

One of the subjects on which people are apt to talk one way and act another is that of divorce. Whatever point of view we may hold about divorce, I think most of us feel we can understand and sympathize with people for whom it seems to be the only way out of a hopeless ruin of a marriage. We feel sorry for the despair we know they must be suffering in the collapse of all they had hoped for and dreamed of, and for the terrible disillusion that blacks out the sun for them when some one to whom, completely confident, they had once entrusted their entire happiness, fails them utterly.

And yet somehow, when we hear that some one has been divorced, the word often seems to exert a subtle, sinister influence on our thinking or our emotions, so that we're far quicker to judge, to blame and to criticize than we are to be compassionately understanding.

This, evidently, has been the experience of the woman who writes: "Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

"Every day you hear divorce condemned, and those who are divorced, share in this condemnation.

"Can those who judge, know the heartache and pain that lie behind those words standing so stolidly and coldly one behind the other to form names in the column headed 'Divorce Granted'? Can they know the heart-rending agony of having the one you've loved, trusted and had complete faith in, calmly ask for his freedom? Can they know what it means to have the love you've shared suddenly become an instrument capable of inflicting unbearable pain? Yet, because of pride, you hold your head high, smile, and assume an air of indifference to hide your pain, and because of this armor of cheer, criticism is severe.

"I'm writing this in the hope that it will furnish food for thought, and that, however well meant, judgment will be with a broader viewpoint. Divorce, in some cases, may be taken lightly. But behind most of them is a story of deep pain, and a shattering of ideals that leaves doubt of one of the most sacred contracts in the sight of God—Marriage.

"A DIVORCEE."

I'm glad you wrote this letter, and I hope, with you, that it will make some people stop and think—and then be less ready to censure. As you say, some may take divorce lightly, but with most it is a bitter business, and one that leaves its mark on their lives forever. And the least the rest of us can do is to refrain from making it more bitter by hasty and careless judgments.

LOSE UGLY POUNDS FAST WITHOUT HUNGER MISERY!

Why try to regain a trim, youthful figure the hard way—why make yourself miserable trying to starve yourself thinner—torturing yourself with painful and possibly injurious exercises—or taking chances on harmful reducing drugs! You'll be amazed at how easy and pleasant it is for most people who are burdened and discouraged with dangerous excess weight to lose as much as three to five pounds a week, the modern, harmless Tremett Way.

Tremett Tastes As Good As Malted Milk. Helps Prevent Hunger-Pangs While Reducing!
Most people who determine to take off unsightly poundage—and keep it off—find it next to impossible to resist fattening foods long enough to insure results. But when Tremett, the amazing food supplement, is taken according to directions, the urge to "cheat" on reducing diets is no longer a temptation. The suffering and misery of reducing is banished! For Tremett helps keep you satisfied and filled—and contains the necessary minerals and vitamins to normally sustain those on restricted diets. And Tremett tastes as good as a soda fountain drink! It's actually delicious!

Results — Or Money Back In Full!
Tremett must give you the results you seek—easier, more pleasantly—and within 30 days—or your money will be refunded in full. There is only one genuine Tremett. Accept no "just as good" substitute.

Broad-mindedness Toward Divorce Is Woman's Plea

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Much as we moderns pride ourselves on our broad-mindedness, here are some subjects on which tolerance often seems no more than skin deep.

When we discuss these subjects we sound wonderful, and sincerely believe we're as tolerant as we sound. Theoretically, we bat 100 per cent in understanding the other fellow's point of view. Yet when it comes to putting our theories into practice, we fail so frequently and so miserably.

One of the subjects on which people are apt to talk one way and act another is that of divorce. Whatever point of view we may hold about divorce, I think most of us feel we can understand and sympathize with people for whom it seems to be the only way out of a hopeless ruin of a marriage. We feel sorry for the despair we know they must be suffering in the collapse of all they had hoped for and dreamed of, and for the terrible disillusion that blacks out the sun for them when some one to whom, completely confident, they had once entrusted their entire happiness, fails them utterly.

And yet somehow, when we hear that some one has been divorced, the word often seems to exert a subtle, sinister influence on our thinking or our emotions, so that we're far quicker to judge, to blame and to criticize than we are to be compassionately understanding.

This, evidently, has been the experience of the woman who writes: "Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

"Every day you hear divorce condemned, and those who are divorced, share in this condemnation.

"Can those who judge, know the heartache and pain that lie behind those words standing so stolidly and coldly one behind the other to form names in the column headed 'Divorce Granted'? Can they know the heart-rending agony of having the one you've loved, trusted and had complete faith in, calmly ask for his freedom? Can they know what it means to have the love you've shared suddenly become an instrument capable of inflicting unbearable pain? Yet, because of pride, you hold your head high, smile, and assume an air of indifference to hide your pain, and because of this armor of cheer, criticism is severe.

"I'm writing this in the hope that it will furnish food for thought, and that, however well meant, judgment will be with a broader viewpoint. Divorce, in some cases, may be taken lightly. But behind most of them is a story of deep pain, and a shattering of ideals that leaves doubt of one of the most sacred contracts in the sight of God—Marriage.

"A DIVORCEE."

I'm glad you wrote this letter, and I hope, with you, that it will make some people stop and think—and then be less ready to censure. As you say, some may take divorce lightly, but with most it is a bitter business, and one that leaves its mark on their lives forever. And the least the rest of us can do is to refrain from making it more bitter by hasty and careless judgments.

Goitre Prevention Is Simple; Little Iodine Does Trick

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PREVENTION is the watchword of modern medicine. There is no doctor today who is not a firm believer in the old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure because doctors, of all men, know how complicated and risky even the best of cures can be when contrasted with the feautiful safety of prevention.

Consider goitre, an enlargement of the thyroid gland in the neck which is likely to occur when not enough iodine is obtained in the food. Goitre causes many and adverse changes in the body and its cure often requires a major operation.

Yet, its prevention is somethimes so simple! A little iodine does the trick. Only a little is needed, but that little is all-important.

Why? Well, it's as simple as this. The secretion of the thyroid gland contains iodine. When iodine is lacking, the gland attempts to make more of its secretion to suppy the lack and in so doing enlarges. Usually there are no symptoms until the enlargement is so great that heavy pressure is put on the surrounding structures.

In certain parts of the United States the water and soil, and hence the goods grown in these areas, are called goitre belts because many people in these regions develop an enlarged thyroid gland or goitre. Consequently, it would appear important that efforts be made to be sure that all persons in these areas get a sufficient sully of iodine.

Surveys have been made in many areas, for example, West Virginia, where in 1922, it was found that sixty per cent of the growing girls had goitre. Nevertheless, it has been shown, according to Dr. Oliver P. Kimball, Cleveland, that this type of goitre may be prevented by making sure that the body is supplied with sufficient iodine.

Studies were also carried out to determine the iodine content of water in certain areas and it was found that where there was no iodine in the water, more than two thirds of the school children had enlargement of the thyroid gland.

In one state a determined effort was made to prevent goitre by the used of iodized salt. Only 0.02 per cent of potassium iodide had to be added to the salt, and this was done without any cost to the consumer. By means of lecures, newspapers, articles, etc., a campaign was carried out to educate people in the knowledge of the value of iodized salt in goitre prevention.

As a result of this campaign it was found that the number of goitres dropped from 54.6 per cent to 17.2 per cent after a period of four years.

The use of iodized salt has no ill effects insofar as anyone has been able to determine. It was feared that possibly the widespread use of iodized salt might lead to another type of goitre known as toxic goitre, in which there are such symptoms as loss of weight and strength, nervousness, irritability and damage to the heart.

However, in a comparative study it was found that only 4.1 per cent of a large group who ued iodized salt had toxic goitre while 55.5 per cent of those who had purposely avoided the use of iodized salt had symptoms of taxic goitre.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. —Advertisement

ARE MOTHERS SPECIAL?

So the little rich girl, when she became of age, cut off her beautiful but idle mother's $21,000 allowance and dedicated the money to the service of afflicted children here and abroad.

Heartless? Maybe. Maybe not. What reason does the little rich girl give? Childhood neglect while her mother went her carefree way as an international playgirl. Childhood loneliness—hunger for a love she never knew. Childhood bitterness and bewilderment that have left deep scars which even her happy marriage could not obliterate.

Does that justify her conduct to her mother? Fair or not, the whole nation's talking. And mama, who has hitherto lived in luxury, is plenty peeved.

"It's outrageous! she cries. "She would force me, her own mother, to work and gives the money instead to a lot of children she's never even seen."

Obviously the lady is plenty sorry for herself and feels she's had a raw deal. Moreover many, if not the majority of American citizens, will agree with her. For it's our sentimental custom to think that mothers are something special and should be treated accordingly. Yet actual experience shows us that mothers can be as faulty as wayward fathers. A mother is often lazy, cruel, incompetent, selfish and utterly indifferent to the welfare of the children she is supposed to love more than her own life.

Would we excuse such conduct in a father? Or would we consider him a complete and contemptible tramp? Yet if we condemn a father for such conduct why should we excuse a mother?

Should a mother receive special consideration merely because she has borne a child? There is no nobler position on earth than that of a good mother and no service which deserves greater honor and gratitude. But such honor and gratitude are based on a lifetime of devoted sacrifice—not on a few hours of travail.

There is nothing in the mere act of giving birth which exempts a woman from the duties and responsibilities of a normal human being. It is no more difficult to bear a child than it is to support that child as a father must do. Why then should a mother expect special medals? Why should she consider love and respect as her rightful due unless her own behavior justifies it?

As to the financial angle—should a mother who is still young, healthy and fitted to hold a position be exempt from work as long as her children have money when she has constantly neglected those children in her youth? Or should a mother be rated, as all other citizens are rated, by her past and present record and reputation?

Shocking questions? Perhaps—to some. Yet they are just and necessary. And we will never be fair to shining motherhood — or helpless children—until we cease our senseless reverence to the shoddy, synthetic females who flaunt the same glorious name.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Shortages are causing many vets to remodel their G. Is into civvies. It's very simple. All you do is take off the brass buttons, have it cleaned and dyed, and wear a civilian suit over it . . . and you look perfect.

Happily, you get such a perfect fit in the army, those G. I. outfits don't need much tailoring. It's really a perfect fit. . . although it gets a little tiring to be walking along with your ex-sergeant in it, too.

It's embarrassing at times. One fellow walked past a vegetable stand, and the right sleeve automatically started peeling potatoes.

Those Southern boys are still pretty stubborn. The minute word got around that uniforms were being worn in different colors, they all rushed down and had theirs dyed grey.

One lad converted his army helmet into a flower pot, but it was a disappointment . . . no matter what kind of seeds he planted, beans kept coming up.

State Senate Aspirant

DENTON, Md., April 11 (AP)—Calvert C. Merriken, Denton, has filed his certificate of candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the state Senate. His only opponent is Marc Bryant, also of Denton. Merriken represented Caroline county in the last term of the House of Delegates.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Shortages are causing many vets to remodel their G. I.s into civvies. It's very simple. All you do is take off the brass buttons, have it cleaned and dyed, and wear a civilian suit over it . . . and you look perfect.

Happily, you get such a perfect fit in the army, those G. I. outfits don't need much tailoring. It's really a perfect fit. . . although it gets a little tiring to be walking along with your ex-sergeant in it, too.

It's embarrassing at times. One fellow walked past a vegetable stand, and the right sleeve automatically started peeling potatoes.

Those Southern boys are still pretty stubborn. The minute word got around that uniforms were being worn in different colors, they all rushed down and had theirs dyed grey.

One lad converted his army helmet into a flower pot, but it was a disappointment . . . no matter what kind of seeds he planted, beans kept coming up.

"Learn To Swim" Campaign Will Be Sponsored by Y

Free Instruction for Boys and Girls Slated April 29 to May 4

Cumberland's Central YMCA will co-operate in the national "Learn To Swim" campaign being sponsored by the National Council of the YMCA and beginning later this month, C. Van Roby, Central Y physical director announced last night.

The campaign, aimed at helping to teach the youth of America how to swim, will be carried on among YMCA's in 800 cities during the period of April 22 to June 7.

Locally, the "Learn To Swim" drive will be conducted from April 29 to May 4 when swimming instructions will be given to boys and girls at the YMCA pool with James E. Kelly, Jr., aquatic supervisor, as the instructor, Roby said.

Schools Will Co-operate

He added that schools of the county will co-operate and that registration cards for the free classes will be sent to the schools.

Students planning to take the course must fill out the cards with their name, age, address, school and grade. The card also must have the signature of the parents of the child.

The age limit for both boys and girls, Roby pointed out, is from 9 to 17. Boys and girls in the 9 to 11 group will receive instructions at 4 p. m. daily during the campaign, and boys and girls in the 12-17 group will be given lessons daily at 5:30 p. m.

Prominent Swimmers To Help

While Kelly will be the instructor for the classes, other prominent swimmers of this section will cooperate with the YMCA during the instruction periods in the Y pool.

Roby termed the campaign the first major step in bringing the YMCA back to its rightful place in the swimming world, and said that the April 22 to June 7 dates for the campaign were set recently by the National Aquatic committee of the Y.

He said the adoption of the new YMCA swimming and lifesaving plan several years ago set the stage for this latest development, resurgence of the YMCA as the nation's swimming and water front safety authority.

Frank Williams To Join Hornell, of Pony League

Frank Williams, who managed the Cumberland American Legion club of the Pan-Mar Baseball League last season, will leave here Saturday night to join the Hornell, N. Y., club of the Pony League. Hornell is a Pittsburgh Pirate farm.

A third baseman, Williams played for the local Legion outfit under Phil Fleming in 1944. In the late 30s, he starred at shortstop for Allegany high school and later played at Schenley high in Pittsburgh.

LaSalle Tossers Open Baseball Season Today

Blue and Gold Nine Meets Berkeley Springs High School

LaSalle high school's 1946 baseballers will pry off the lid of their sixteen-game regular schedule this afternoon when they meet the Berkeley Springs, W. Va., high school nine at Berkeley Springs at 2:30 o'clock.

The Blue and Gold's pitching hopes will rest on the arm of Pat Creegan, named yesterday as the starting hurler, but Jim Dulaney will be held in reserve in case Creegan falters.

Twelve players plus Coach George Geatz, Manager Ray Wempe, and Brother Matthew, moderator, will make the trip, leaving Cumberland in three automobiles at 12:30 p. m.

Pitching Looks Good

LaSalle, while still a little weak in the batting department, has shown up well in two practice sessions, defeating the LaSalle seniors 19-0 yesterday afternoon and bowing 4-0 to the Alumni on Wednesday.

The Blue and Gold has looked especially bright from a pitching outlook, four moundsmen having yielded only two safe blows in two games played to date. The rest of the squad is "certainly coming along" Brother Matthew said last night.

Bob Wood and Oscar Sell divided the pitching chore for LaSalle against the Seniors in the five-inning practice setto yesterday, chalking up a total of eleven strikeouts. Joe Dorsey got the only hit for the Seniors, knocking out a safe bingle off Wood in the fourth inning.

Starting Lineup

Dulaney as relief pitcher, Don Sheffler, an outfielder, and Bill Brannon, utility infielder, also will make the trip.

Sirius Wins Feature

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 11 (AP)—Sirius edged out Bull Play in the stretch today to win a length victory in the eighty-fourth running of the $5,000-added Phoenix Handicap, feature race of Keeneland's opening day card.

Letmenow finished third behind Bull Play and was trailed a poor fourth and fifth by the highly regarded Calumet entry of Good Blood and In Earnest, respectively.

In Ernest was the only eligible for the Kentucky Derby in the six-furlong race for three-year-olds and upward. Pellicle and High Shine, both Derby eligibles, were scratched.

American-Mexican Baseball Feud Is Deplored by U. S.

State Department Official Says Government Wants Settlement

By BUS HAM

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—A State department official said today that the government "wishes baseball would show some indication of a desire to clean up" differences with the Mexican League.

Controversies over American players entering into agreements with Mexican League officials are injuring relations with "one of our closest and best allies," this official, who cannot be identified, said.

Newspaper accounts of instances involving Mickey Owen, Brooklyn catcher, and Vern Stephens, St. Louis Browns shotstop, have been closely followed at the State department.

Stephens played briefly in the Mexican League but returned to the Browns. Owen reported signed a Mexican contract, later decided not to join that circuit.

"Baseball is making it tough on us," this State department official said. "We try to build up good will and this sort of thing tears it down.

"All of the responsibility isn't on one side, but we wish baseball would show some indication of a desire to clean up this thing.

"The Mexican government certainly will be angry over such statements as those attributed to Stephens that big-shots down there go around with six-shooters on their hips. Stephens's only real complaint, from what appeared in the papers, was that he didn't feel at home there."

Meanwhile, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, said that he "would love to see baseball" firmly established in Mexico, "and it could be done, easily."

The first step would be the formation of a "good, sound organization." He suggested that lots of "overflow free-agent" American players would be available to the Mexican League, if properly organized, to "help develop their youth in baseball."

Ott Suspends Mungo

RICHMOND, Va., April 11 (AP)—Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants, indefinitely suspended pitcher Van Lingle Mungo, ace of the club's mound squad last season with a 14-7 record, today for breaking training rules.

Ott said Mungo would go to his Pageland, S. C., home until reinstated.

Wildcats Win, 15-13

The South End Wildcats defeated the Offutt Street Bulldogs, 15-13, in a softball game yesterday on the Taylor field. The score:

135-Pound Class Bout May Feature Legion Tourney

Porter and Klosterman Will Clash in Match Monday at Armory

"Shoeless" Bobby Porter, of the Legion, and Jackie Klosterman, of the Police Boys club, may occupy one of the feature spots in their battle for the 135 pound novice championship of the tri-state boxing tourney sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, Monday night at the state armory.

The bout also will decide the team championship, according to Robert V. "Sparky" Chisholm, matchmaker, who is now preparing the card for the last of the three tourney sessions.

Chisholm said he is trying to have four boxers from the Neighborhood House team, Washington, D. C., come here for the bouts Monday and should know their answer today. The Washington boxers, if they come, will be paired with Jimmy Catanese, Randall Starkey, Buck Shober and Joe Niland or Jim Klosterman.

A "rubber" match between Bobby Goss and Bobby Fuller already has been arranged, according to Chisholm, who said he is trying to match Jimmy Lehman and Jimmy Martin in a 118 pound bout.

Chisholm said he has been informed Bobby Green, son of the boxer of the same name, is willing to meet Marty Mull, 118 pound champ of the tourney, and if that is the case a bout will be arranged.

A committee has been appointed to select the outstanding novice of the tourney who will receive a trophy from the Legion, Chisholm said. Don Miller, of the Police Boys club, Marty Mull, of the Legion, Bobby Goss, of the South End A. C., and Dick Clay, of the South End A. C., seem to have the edge so far, Chisholm said.

Moose To Practice

The Loyal Order of Moose baseball team will practice this evening at Stitcher field, and Carl E. Cook, manager, last night urged all candidates and players holding contracts to be present promptly at 5 o'clock.

League Will Meet

The Ridgeley Junior Softball League, a six-club circuit, will meet next Monday night at 7:30 in the Ridgeley council chamber. All players who have not been assigned to teams should attend the session.

Racing Chairmen To Visit Bowie

BALTIMORE, April 11 (AP)—Chairman George P. Mahoney of the Maryland Racing Commission announced today the commission would be host Saturday to racing commissioners from eleven other states here to inspect Maryland's new mobile laboratory.

Mahoney recalled he had announced the Maryland commission's decision to use the mobile lab, in an effort to prevent stimulation of horses, at a recent meeting of state commissioners in Los Angeles.

He said the visitors would see a demonstration of biological and chemical tests used, and hear an explanation of how the samples are divided from the chemists making the tests.

Harry Anslinger, federal narcotics commissioner, will also attend, Mahoney added.

States represented will include Delaware, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, Washington and West Virginia.

Reynolds Stops Jenkins

PITTSBURGH, April 11 (AP)—Sparky Reynolds, 147, Indianapolis, knocked out Willie Jenkins, 145, Homestead, Pa., in 2:52 of the fourth round of a scheduled eight-round main bout at Aragon Gardens tonight. It was Jenkins's first setback in nine bouts.

—West Virginia ranks fifth among the states in the production of natural gas and first east of the Mississippi.

Snead Will Play At Virginia Beach

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 11 (AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, the Hot Springs golfing hot-shot, will arrive at this Virginia resort city Friday with his fingers crossed.

The slammer, fresh from golfdom's winter tour, is coming to town to participate in that little Virginia State Open golf shindig they're going to stage down here at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club Saturday and Sunday.

Snead already has admitted he doesn't have the slightest idea as to whether he can take the victory's slice of the $2,000 cash melon for professionals.

"Trying to pick the winner in this tournament would be like going out and trying to pick the winner in a horse race," said Snead, who never has been able to annex the state open title despite the fact he's tried on three occasions.

"I really wouldn't be surprised to see Chandler Harper, Bobby Cruickshank and George Payton playing for first this year," Snead continued. "I'll probaly be playing for second."

Tennis Matches Carded

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 11 (AP)—The season's schedule for the University of Virginia tennis team has been completed. The team will meet Maryland May 14 at College Park, Md.; and Navy Day May 15 at Annapolis, Md.

College Baseball

Walter Johnson Is In Hospital With Sore Arm

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Walter Johnson, the "Big Train" whose fastball was the terror of big-league baseball for twenty-one years, 1907-1927, is in a hospital today with a sore arm—his left.

The rangy, rubber-armed right-hander developed a tingling sensation and numbness in his off-side arm and entered the hospital for observation. An attending physician said he has been working too hard, is exhausted and has a little rise in blood pressure.

On the way to an all-time record in strikeouts, 3,497, and in games won, 414, Johnson had an ailing arm only once—in 1920, after he pitched his only no-hit game, beating Boston, 1-0.

Johnson, 59, now operates a farm near Germantown, Md.

Kyne Would Go High For Suffolk Downs

CHICAGO, April 11. (AP)—William Kyne, general manager of Bay Meadows race track at San Francisco, said today that he would bid as high as $2,700,000 to purchase the Suffolk Downs track in Boston, which will be auctioned off on May 1. Kyne, on his way back to California after a trip to Boston, said he would return east in time to place his bid.

"I think we'll get the track," he said.

Kyne said that $250,000 from the Veterans Rehabilitation Fund, Incorporated, of California, a Bay Meadows project, will be put into Suffolk Downs if he gains control.

LaSalle Tossers Open Baseball Season Today

Blue and Gold Nine Meets Berkeley Springs High School

LaSalle high school's 1946 baseballers will pry off the lid of their sixteen-game regular schedule this afternoon when they meet the Berkeley Springs, W. Va., high school nine at Berkeley Springs at 2:30 o'clock.

The Blue and Gold's pitching hopes will rest on the arm of Pat Creegan, named yesterday as the starting hurler, but Jim Dulaney will be held in reserve in case Creegan falters.

Twelve players plus Coach George Geatz, Manager Ray Wempe, and Brother Matthew, moderator, will make the trip, leaving Cumberland in three automobiles at 12:30 p. m.

Pitching Looks Good

LaSalle, while still a little weak in the batting department, has shown up well in two practice sessions, defeating the LaSalle seniors 19-0 yesterday afternoon and bowing 4-0 to the Alumni on Wednesday.

The Blue and Gold has looked especially bright from a pitching outlook, four moundsmen having yielded only two safe blows in two games played to date. The rest of the squad is "certainly coming along" Brother Matthew said last night.

Bob Wood and Oscar Sell divided the pitching chore for LaSalle against the Seniors in the five-inning practice setto yesterday, chalking up a total of eleven strikeouts. Joe Dorsey got the only hit for the Seniors, knocking out a safe bingle off Wood in the fourth inning.

Starting Lineup

Dulaney as relief pitcher, Don Sheffler, an outfielder, and Bill Brannon, utility infielder, also will make the trip.

Sirius Wins Feature

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 11 (AP)—Sirius edged out Bull Play in the stretch today to win a length victory in the eighty-fourth running of the $5,000-added Phoenix Handicap, feature race of Keeneland's opening day card.

Letmenow finished third behind Bull Play and was trailed a poor fourth and fifth by the highly regarded Calumet entry of Good Blood and In Earnest, respectively.

In Ernest was the only eligible for the Kentucky Derby in the six-furlong race for three-year-olds and upward. Pellicle and High Shine, both Derby eligibles, were scratched.

American-Mexican Baseball Feud Is Deplored by U. S.

State Department Official Says Government Wants Settlement

By BUS HAM

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—A State department official said today that the government "wishes baseball would show some indication of a desire to clean up" differences with the Mexican League.

Controversies over American players entering into agreements with Mexican League officials are injuring relations with "one of our closest and best allies," this official, who cannot be identified, said.

Newspaper accounts of instances involving Mickey Owen, Brooklyn catcher, and Vern Stephens, St. Louis Browns shotstop, have been closely followed at the State department.

Stephens played briefly in the Mexican League but returned to the Browns. Owen reported signed a Mexican contract, later decided not to join that circuit.

"Baseball is making it tough on us," this State department official said. "We try to build up good will and this sort of thing tears it down.

"All of the responsibility isn't on one side, but we wish baseball would show some indication of a desire to clean up this thing.

"The Mexican government certainly will be angry over such statements as those attributed to Stephens that big-shots down there go around with six-shooters on their hips. Stephens's only real complaint, from what appeared in the papers, was that he didn't feel at home there."

Meanwhile, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, said that he "would love to see baseball" firmly established in Mexico, "and it could be done, easily."

The first step would be the formation of a "good, sound organization." He suggested that lots of "overflow free-agent" American players would be available to the Mexican League, if properly organized, to "help develop their youth in baseball."

Ott Suspends Mungo

RICHMOND, Va., April 11 (AP)—Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants, indefinitely suspended pitcher Van Lingle Mungo, ace of the club's mound squad last season with a 14-7 record, today for breaking training rules.

Ott said Mungo would go to his Pageland, S. C., home until reinstated.

135-Pound Class Bout May Feature Legion Tourney

Porter and Klosterman Will Clash in Match Monday at Armory

"Shoeless" Bobby Porter, of the Legion, and Jackie Klosterman, of the Police Boys club, may occupy one of the feature spots in their battle for the 135 pound novice championship of the tri-state boxing tourney sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, Monday night at the state armory.

The bout also will decide the team championship, according to Robert V. "Sparky" Chisholm, matchmaker, who is now preparing the card for the last of the three tourney sessions.

Chisholm said he is trying to have four boxers from the Neighborhood House team, Washington, D. C., come here for the bouts Monday and should know their answer today. The Washington boxers, if they come, will be paired with Jimmy Catanese, Randall Starkey, Buck Shober and Joe Niland or Jim Klosterman.

A "rubber" match between Bobby Goss and Bobby Fuller already has been arranged, according to Chisholm, who said he is trying to match Jimmy Lehman and Jimmy Martin in a 118 pound bout.

Chisholm said he has been informed Bobby Green, son of the boxer of the same name, is willing to meet Marty Mull, 118 pound champ of the tourney, and if that is the case a bout will be arranged.

A committee has been appointed to select the outstanding novice of the tourney who will receive a trophy from the Legion, Chisholm said. Don Miller, of the Police Boys club, Marty Mull, of the Legion, Bobby Goss, of the South End A. C., and Dick Clay, of the South End A. C., seem to have the edge so far, Chisholm said.

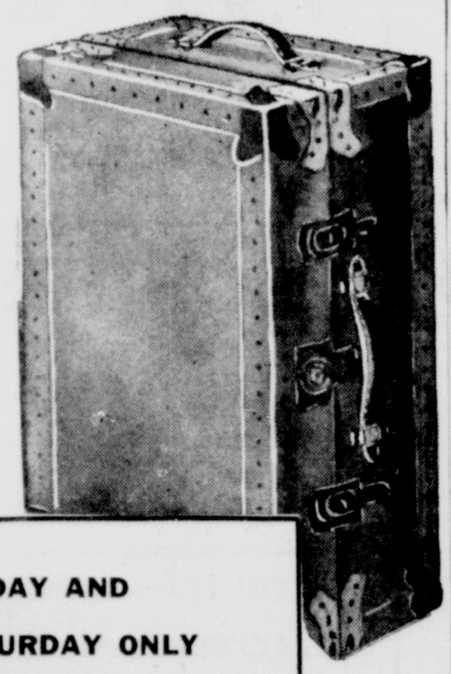

Moose To Practice

The Loyal Order of Moose baseball team will practice this evening at Stitcher field, and Carl E. Cook, manager, last night urged all candidates and players holding contracts to be present promptly at 5 o'clock.

League Will Meet

The Ridgeley Junior Softball League, a six-club circuit, will meet next Monday night at 7:30 in the Ridgeley council chamber. All players who have not been assigned to teams should attend the session.

Racing Chairmen To Visit Bowie

BALTIMORE, April 11 (AP)—Chairman George P. Mahoney of the Maryland Racing Commission announced today the commission would be host Saturday to racing commissioners from eleven other states here to inspect Maryland's new mobile laboratory.

Mahoney recalled he had announced the Maryland commission's decision to use the mobile lab, in an effort to prevent stimulation of horses, at a recent meeting of state commissioners in Los Angeles.

He said the visitors would see a demonstration of biological and chemical tests used, and hear an explanation of how the samples are divided from the chemists making the tests.

Harry Anslinger, federal narcotics commissioner, will also attend, Mahoney added.

States represented will include Delaware, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, Washington and West Virginia.

Reynolds Stops Jenkins

PITTSBURGH, April 11 (AP)—Sparky Reynolds, 147, Indianapolis, knocked out Willie Jenkins, 145, Homestead, Pa., in 2:52 of the fourth round of a scheduled eight-round main bout at Aragon Gardens tonight. It was Jenkins's first setback in nine bouts.

Snead Will Play At Virginia Beach

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 11 (AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, the Hot Springs golfing hot-shot, will arrive at this Virginia resort city Friday with his fingers crossed.

The slammer, fresh from golfdom's winter tour, is coming to town to participate in that little Virginia State Open golf shindig they're going to stage down here at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club Saturday and Sunday.

Snead already has admitted he doesn't have the slightest idea as to whether he can take the victory's slice of the $2,000 cash melon for professionals.

"Trying to pick the winner in this tournament would be like going out and trying to pick the winner in a horse race," said Snead, who never has been able to annex the state open title despite the fact he's tried on three occasions.

"I really wouldn't be surprised to see Chandler Harper, Bobby Cruickshank and George Payton playing for first this year," Snead continued. "I'll probaly be playing for second."

Walter Johnson Is In Hospital With Sore Arm

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Walter Johnson, the "Big Train" whose fastball was the terror of big-league baseball for twenty-one years, 1907-1927, is in a hospital today with a sore arm—his left.

The rangy, rubber-armed right-hander developed a tingling sensation and numbness in his off-side arm and entered the hospital for observation. An attending physician said he has been working too hard, is exhausted and has a little rise in blood pressure.

On the way to an all-time record in strikeouts, 3,497, and in games won, 414, Johnson had an ailing arm only once—in 1920, after he pitched his only no-hit game, beating Boston, 1-0.

Johnson, 59, now operates a farm near Germantown, Md.

Hyde Park Events Will Be Reported By Radio Chains

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Presentation of Franklin D. Roosevelt's estate at Hyde Park, N. Y., to the government, and the ceremonies therefor, will be heard on all networks Friday. Three will carry it direct in the afternoon and one will relay from a recording at night.

The schedule: 2:30 p. m. NBC and ABC; 8:30 from recording MBS. Besides President Truman speakers are to be Mrs. Roosevelt and Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug.

The Woody Herman band on ABC at 8 starts what the direct or thinks is a "different" contest. For the best "write-in" he plans to "give the band away" for one night in June in addition to a purse.

Bill Corum will be back with Don Dunphy for the broadcasting of the weekly ABC bout at 10. The contenders are Chuck Taylor and Tony Marteliano in the welterweight situation. This is a change from a previous announcement. Immediately after the fight baseball commissioner is to speak from Dayton in a preview of the 1946 season.

For the second of the child guidance forums on MBS at 10 there will be a discussion of "The Influence of Motion Pictures on Children." . . . The next MBS program at 10:30, "Meet the Press," will put the questions to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service.

"Breakfast Club" of ABC at 9 a. m. will be broadcasting from Cleveland in connection with that city's one-hundred and fiftieth anniversary . . . The Kate Smith guest on CBS at 8:30 p. m. will be Dot Lamour.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Chester A. Loar, who departed this life six years ago, April 12, 1940.

Some may think we are not lonely
When times they see us smile,
But little do they know the heartache
We suffer all the while.

Your memory is as dear today
As in the hour you passed away,
To have, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of our hearts.

Sadly issed by his
WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Stocks Idle through Featureless Session, Suffer Further Setback

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Stocks idled through a featureless session today, suffering a further setback from recent advances.

Pivotal industrials stagnated much of the day. Losses generally were limited to less than two points and a few steels, rails, motors and specialties managed slight recoveries from the day's low levels. Transfers totaled 1,220,000 shares lightest since April 2, compared with 1,580,000 Wednesday.

Prominent on the offside at the close were Bethlehem, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Greyhound, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, American Can, Allied Chemical, Pennsylvania Railroad, General Motors, United States Steel, Anaconda, Boeing, Sears Roebuck, United States Gypsum and Curtiss-Wright. Gainers included American Telephone, Canadian Pacific, National Biscuit, Kennecott, United States Rubber, Woolworth, General Electric, Dow Chemical, DuPont, Sun Chemical and United-Cigar-Whelan.

In the Curb, Illinois Power issues gained (on a plan to simplify capital structure) as did Childs preferred, Lionel Corporation, Babcock and Wilcox and American Hard Rubber. Aluminum Company, Singer and Cities Service declined. Turnover here was 520,000 shares, lowest since March 29, compared with 590,000 Wednesday.

The bond market developed a sizeable number of both firm and soft spots, although the great bulk of business was done within fractions either way of previous prices.

Sales totaled $7,540,000 against $5,480,000 on Wednesday.

United States governments continued to lean on the easy side on the stock exchange and over the counter, although losses were small in both markets.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Chester A. Loar, who departed this life six years ago, April 12, 1940.

Some may think we are not lonely
When times they see us smile,
But little do they know the heartache
We suffer all the while.

Your memory is as dear today
As in the hour you passed away,
To have, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of our hearts.

Sadly missed by his
WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Stocks Idle through Featureless Session, Suffer Further Setback

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Stocks idled through a featureless session today, suffering a further setback from recent advances.

Pivotal industrials stagnated much of the day. Losses generally were limited to less than two points and a few steels, rails, motors and specialties managed slight recoveries from the day's low levels. Transfers totaled 1,220,000 shares, lightest since April 2, compared with 1,580,000 Wednesday.

Prominent on the offside at the close were Bethlehem, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Greyhound, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, American Can, Allied Chemical, Pennsylvania Railroad, General Motors, United States Steel, Anaconda, Boeing, Sears Roebuck, United States Gypsum and Curtiss-Wright. Gainers included American Telephone, Canadian Pacific, National Biscuit, Kennecott, United States Rubber, Woolworth, General Electric, Dow Chemical, DuPont, Sun Chemical and United-Cigar-Whelan.

In the Curb, Illinois Power issues gained (on a plan to simplify capital structure) as did Childs preferred, Lionel Corporation, Babcock and Wilcox and American Hard Rubber. Aluminum Company, Singer and Cities Service declined. Turnover here was 520,000 shares, lowest since March 29, compared with 590,000 Wednesday.

The bond market developed a sizeable number of both firm and soft spots, although the great bulk of business was done within fractions either way of previous prices.

Sales totaled $7,540,000 against $5,480,000 on Wednesday.

United States governments continued to lean on the easy side on the stock exchange and over the counter, although losses were small in both markets.

Teachers Honor O. B. Boughton At Farewell Party

Veteran Instructor Gives Fiery Oration during Mock Trial by Jury

There were all the elements of a gridiron performance, a musical comedy and an old fashioned revival in the farewell party Allegany county teachers gave last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club in honor of Orbie B. Boughton, 70, who is retiring this month after fifty-one years as a teacher in Allegany county public schools.

With William A. Gunter serving as "ringmaster," the teachers let down their back hair in trying Mr. Boughton in a colorful court of law replete with song and dance numbers that featured such school dignitaries as Superintendent Charles L. Kopp and Principal Victor D. Heisey, of Fort Hill high school, in top hats and with elegant mustachios in the best Gay Nineties tradition. The specific charge against the defendant was that he had done entirely too much for county teachers, and he was found overwhelmingly guilty.

Gives Rousing Oration

When called upon to defend himself, Mr. Boughton's eyes fairly glistened. After rubbing his hands with satisfaction he proceeded to give the big audience of teachers a oration on the necessity of strong organization. It was absolutely a rock-bottom, hew-to-the-line, get-in - there - and - fight organization speech.

Big time union leaders who have failed to see Mr. Boughton in action have neglected their education, for the veteran leader of the Teachers Association is a ball of fire when he goes into action. Mr. Boughton has been preaching the gospel of effective organization for thirty years, and teachers present last night agreed that his valedictory performance surpassed all previous records.

Shaking his finger at the teachers, Mr. Boughton declared, "I tell you, and you should never forget this, unless you have an organization and an effective one, they'll walk all over you. You have to fight. You have to fight not only to win the gains that are your due but you also have to fight to hold on to them."

The trial by jury was probably the most unusual in Allegany county history, featuring three rousing organization addresses by Mr. Boughton, interspersed by song and dance numbers by such featured entertainers as Miss Lela Taylor, Mrs. Nellie Dreyer Smith, Miss Elizabeth Miley, Mrs. Alverda Ford, Miss Sara Wright and Miss Nellie Willison. While these teachers, in lavish costumes, romped and sang about the sedate man in the dock, the prisoner sat solemnly and thoughtfully, waiting for his next inning.

Prisoner Found Guilty

After finding the prisoner guilty as all get out, Superintendent Kopp paid an effective tribute to the retiring teacher, after which Miss Taylor, representing the Teacher's Association, presented Mr. and Mrs. Boughton with a $500 banknote and a new radio. Mr. Boughton promptly put the banknote on a chair and his wife found it necessary to remind him to pick it up before leaving.

The teachers had a dinner of fried chicken, gravy, mashed potatoes, salad, relish, rolls, coffee and cake roll.

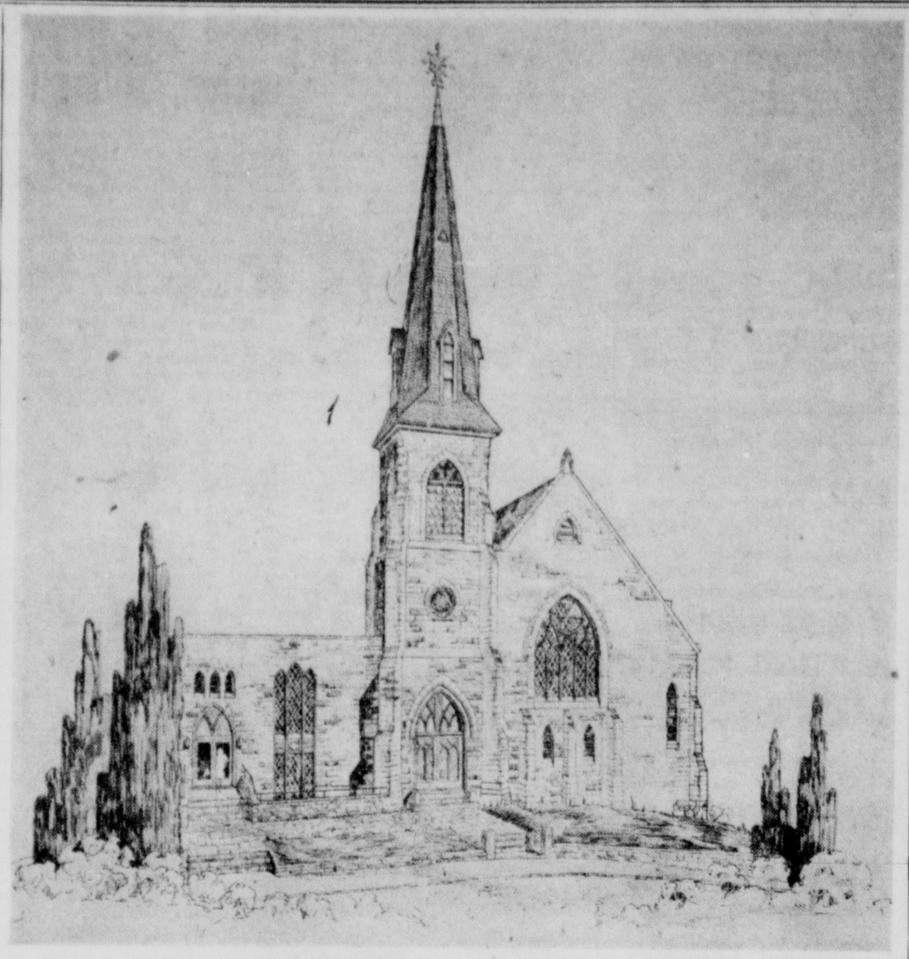

The invocation was given by Miss Lillian C. Compton, acting president of Frostburg State Teachers College. Mr. Heisey gave the address of welcome and after extolling the virtues of the retiring teacher, declared "I'll miss him." At this point Mr. Gunter took over and the party rapidly started to hit a more hilarious stride, concluding with the trial and Mr. Boughton's able defense of himself.

The party had all the ingredients of a thorough sendoff for the capable science teacher and even included a congratulatory telegram from Governor Herbert R. O'Conor, a cleverly illustrated program, colorful place cards featuring a small district schoolhouse such as the one in which Mr. Boughton first taught in 1895 at Eckhart, and a rendition of the veteran teacher's favorite songs, including "Oh Susannah," "Seeing Nellie Home," "Golden Slippers" and "Santa Lucia."

Undercurrent of Sadness

However, despite all the revelry and high jinks, there was an undercurrent of sadness last night too, for it was obvious that the teachers are aware that they are losing a champion who has vigorously fought their battles for them for many years without fear or favor.

The committee in charge of the party included Miss Edwina Kraus, chairman; Miss Eleanor Rizer, Miss Lola Hudson, Paul Perdew, Miss Nellie Willison, Miss Sara Wright, and Miss Lola Burral. Members of the cast in the court scene included Arthur W. Taylor, Earl F. Brain, Mr. and Mrs. Boughton, Lewyn C. Davis, Robert C. Morris, Miss Taylor, Miss Wright, Miss Willison, Superintendent Kopp and Principal Heisey.

HOW IT WILL LOOK—Shown above is a drawing made by S. Russ Minter, local architect, which shows how the First Presbyterian church, Washington street, will look when a $60,000 expansion, remodeling and addition program is completed. The construction plan calls for removing the church house next door to the church, and constructing a two-story fire proof building, running parallel with the west side of the church itself. The first floor of the addition will contain additional class rooms, a lecture hall, kitchen, choir room and other facilities. The second floor will have numerous rooms to be used for Sunday school, as well as other church activities. Some of the changes will include remodeling of the church basement.

Oscar Bergstrom Resigns Position At Central YMCA

Accepts Post at Bristol, R. I., YMCA; To Assume Duties May 15

Oscar I Bergstrom, associate general secretary at Central YMCA since the fall of 1943, has resigned to become general secretary of the YMCA in Bristol, R. I., Robert S. Sisson, general YMCA secretary, announced last night.

The resignation will be effective May 15, when Bergstrom will assume his new duties.

Bergstrom came here from Washington, D. C., where he had served as associate boys' work secretary for two years. During his stay in Cumberland, he organized the Hi-Y council, assisted in organizing the Rec club, organized the YMCA Sunday School softball league, served as camp director in 1945, organized summer educational trips, and was instrumental in organizing the "youth government" program for the state of Maryland. The latter program gives high school boys training in preparing legislation and in studying the processes of state government.

A native of Lynn, Mass., Bergstrom was graduated from Springfield college, Springfield, Mass., in 1938. Following his graduation, he was employed in Gloucester, Mass., as YMCA boys' work secretary until 1941, during which time he organized a day camp at a city beach, and instituted a boys' "Town Meeting" program, based on New England town government.

After going to Washington, he organized a Hi-Y council for the metropolitan area as a "boys' cabinet" for the purpose of instructing boys in democratic procedure. He also served as associate camp director and organized an honor society.

Bergstrom is a member of the Cumberland Kiwanis club. He is married and has a 5-year-old daughter.

MARRIED IN UTAH—Cpl. Lee Berkeley Matthews, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Matthews, LaVale married Miss Laura Beth Blomquist, Salt Lake City, Utah, in St. Paul's Episcopal church, at Salt Lake, Feb. 23. (See story).

Conservation Is America's Power, Bertholf Asserts

Speaker Tells Kiwanians Resources Must Be Conserved and Shared

Although America is a strong nation at the present time, it will not remain so unless natural resources are conserved and education continues to progress, Dr. Lloyd M. Bertholf, head of the department of biology of Western Maryland college, Westminster, said yesterday in an address before the Kiwanis club in Central YMCA.

In his opinion, Dr. Bertholf said, two things are the source of power. One is conservation and the other is the knowledge of how to use and conserve these resources, he declared, adding that soil is the most important resource because it is the principal source of food supply.

Power of nations stems from the presence of natural resources, principally soil, plus the knowhow of science, Dr. Bertholf said, pointing out that there is a responsibility that goes with power.

"If America uses her power merely to keep her standard of living above that of every other nation, we shall have no friends anywhere on the earth," he stated. "And if we use our power merely to intimidate, we may scare disturbers of the peace into silence for awhile, but only until they can gather enough resources to challenge our power."

Dr. Bertholf asserted that "power is a trust. Our resources are ours only by accident. They will have to be shared. This will have to be one world or it will be none. Our dominating power will have to be given over, I firmly believe, to a world government — a government more powerful than any one nation on earth.

"If not, we are headed for another war from which there will emerge not a victory of allies, but a victory of a single nation. We shall have unity, all right, but at the cost of practically everything the world has built up in its civilization."

Four new members were inducted into the club by James W. Bishop, past president of the club. They are Dr. Fuller B. Whitworth, Harry Iles, Richard Light and George Davis.

Celanese Offers Five Per Cent Wage Increase

Local 1874, TWUA, Plans Membership Meetings To Act on Proposal

A five per cent wage increase has been offered to employes of the Amcelle plant as a result of wage negotiations between the Celanese Corporation of America and Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, a company spokesman reported yesterday.

mean increases of four, five and six cents an hour, the company officials said, pointing out that the only exceptions are the warp knitting, dyeing and cafeteria departments where, the company asserts, wages are already on an equitable basis when compared to other establishments.

To Act on Offer

Special membership meetings of Local 1874, TWUA, will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. and Thursday at 10 a. m. for the purpose of accepting or rejecting the company's proposals on wage increases, according to William Boyd Coleman, union president.

Coleman declined comment on the company offer.

The company said the union made an original request for seventeen and one-half cents an hour and later reduced the demand to twelve cents. The request was cut to eight cents on Monday, the company added.

Last fall the company and the union agreed upon a wage increase of ten cents an hour and the union is requesting another increase under terms of the contract which allows the wage clause to be reopened after six months.

Keyser Meeting Set

Workers of the Potomac Worsted mill, Keyser, will meet Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock to discuss a wage increase offer made by the company and to hear details of a counter proposal of the Union, according to Joseph J. Barley, business manager of Local 1874.

Arbitration hearings on veterans seniority and promotions and spinning department seniority at the Celanese plant will be resumed at the court house Saturday at 9:30 a. m.

Grand Jury Returns 29 Indictments

The April term grand jury yesterday submitted a report devoid of specific recommendations, returned twenty-nine indictments and announced that they had questioned seventy-two witnesses. The jurymen were discharged by Associate Judge Walter C. Capper.

The jury report was signed by A. R. Buchanan, foreman, and Lyman E. Wortman and Harry J. Barton, clerks.

Of the twenty-nine indictments returned by the grand jury, twelve, involving six persons, have already been transposed from the secret docket to the open docket.

The list of indicted includes George A. Wertz, former chef at the Cumberland Country Club, who will be arraigned on two counts of burglary and orfe for malicious destruction of property.

Others accused and the indictments against them follow: Hilbert Edmondson, larceny and receiving stolen goods; Anthony Hickle, five counts of larceny and receiving stolen goods; James C. Phelan, larceny and receiving stolen goods; Edward Siegmeyer, bastardy, and Allen Fleegle, bastardy.

Seek Missing Girl

Police were asked last evening to locate Esther Jarvis, 15, who, according to her mother, left her home on Elder street for Fort Hill high school yesterday morning but failed to report. The girl is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 115 pounds, has dark brown hair and eyes and was wearing a brown coat, green skirt and white blouse, police were told.

Car Is Stolen

State and city police have been asked to locate the 1941 Ford sedan of Melvin Brant, 306 Mt. View drive, which was stolen from South Lee street early this morning. Police said the car, bearing Maryland license No. 368-217 is painted green and has a broken windshield.

Bittinger Not Indicted

State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris said yesterday that the April grand jury refused to return an indictment against McKinley Reuben Bittinger, RFD No. 2, Swanton, accused of manslaughter by automobile in the death of John Milford, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Milford, Lonaconing, on March 31,

Is Injured in Fall

Wilbert Mellott, 11-year-old son of Clarence Mellott, was treated in Memorial hospital last evening at 7:30 o'clock after he cut his lower lip when he fell from a rocker at his home, 401 Virginia avenue.

Motorist Is Fined $5; Struck Pedestrian

Russell L. Uhl, Mt. Savage, was fined $5 in police court yesterday morning on a charge of careless driving after, police said, he drove through a white light at Baltimore and Mechanic streets Wednesday evening and struck Robert Hinze, 23 Ridgeway terrace.

Police said Uhl testified the light had just changed as he reached the intersection. Hinze was treated in Allegany hospital for abrasions and bruises and was unable to attend the hearing.

Community Chest, War Fund Total Exceeds $100,000

First Two Weeks in November Tentatively Set for 1946 Campaign

Additional funds have been received to raise to $100,852 the total of contributions to the Cumberland Community Chest and National War Fund campaign last November, Henry C. Swearingen, chest president, announced last night at the quarterly meeting of the chest's board of directors in the Liberty Trust building.

Business conducted at the meeting included tentatively setting the campaign dates for the 1946-47 campaign for the first two weeks in November, with campaign headquarters opening about October 1.

Financial statements were submitted by Mrs. Emma Everstine, treasurer, showing that disbursements to the chest agencies for the month of March were $4,284.26, leaving a balance in the chest account of $8,085.54 with $35,481.25 still due from the combined war fund and chest fund.

Pledges to the war fund and chest for 1946 have been collected in the amount of $81,951.85. The National War Fund has been paid $16,137, one half of that agency's share, and the Community Chest has received $25,000.

Swearingen stated that all of the chest agencies are in good financial condition and are carrying on their program and service in a satisfactory manner.

Fruit in Tri-State Area Damaged by Frost

Tri-state orchardists yesterday were not certain regarding the extent of damage caused by low temperatures Wednesday night ranging from 22 to 30 degrees but are hoping for the best.

There is no doubt that the frost did some damage, mostly in lowland areas, but the fact that the weather has been dry of late and the fact that apple trees are not in full blossom as yet may have been a saving factor.

Orchardists, who point out that last year was the off year for apples, say that this should be a good apple year providing frost does not get at the trees this month.

County Agent R. F. McHenry yesterday said it was too early to state the extent of damage in this area but is hopeful that it was scattered.

On a tour of inspection yesterday morning, McHenry found ice crystals in the calyx of peach blossoms and also noted that the center buds in apple clusters were frozen in some instances. Fortunately, however, apple trees in this area are not in full blossom as yet.

Two Births Reported

Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Wagoner, 226 Arch street, announce the birth of a son in Memorial hospital Wednesday evening.

Two Cumberland Wives To Make Trip to Germany

Mrs. Friedel, Mrs. Cofield Scheduled To Sail from New York Soon

When Mrs. Thelma Friedel boards a train for Baltimore this afternoon, she will begin the first part of a journey which will end in Berlin, Germany, where her husband, First Lt. Albert R. Friedel, is stationed with the occupation forces.

Mrs. Friedel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Young, Uhl highway, expects to sail from New York either April 18 or 20 aboard an army transport carrying the first load of service wives allowed by the War department to join their husbands in Germany.

Another Cumberlander, Mrs. Regina B. Cofield, 529 Fayette street, wife of Lt. Col. Emory W. Cofield, will leave tomorrow for Washington, D. C., en route to New York, where she expects to sail for Germany with their infant daughter, Barbara Ann.

Stationed in Heidelberg

Lt. Col. Cofield, who has been home on leave after serving fifteen months overseas at Third army headquarters in Heidelberg, will accompany his wife and child to New York but will be unable to return to Germany on the same ship with them.

Arrangements for Mrs. Friedel's trip were made through Third Service Command headquarters in Baltimore. After spending two days in Baltimore preparing her clothing and household effects for shipment by the War department, she plans to go to New York Sunday to await sailing time.

The army transport, which will carry one of the two loads of 1,200 persons due to sail for Germany this month, will take about ten days to make the Atlantic crossing, and will dock at Bremerhaven on the North Sea. Husbands will not be allowed to meet the ship.

After spending the night in Bremerhaven, Mrs. Friedel will leave by train the next morning for Berlin, a twelve-hour trip.

Receives Overseas Call

She received a three-minute overseas telephone call from her husband yesterday morning, and learned that he is trying to decide between two Berlin homes, one a cottage and the other a larger house, in which they will live for the next year.

Lt. Friedel, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Friedel, Baltimore, is a company commander in the quartermaster corps of the Seventy-eighth infantry division, and has signed for occupation duty until June, 1947. In service for three years, he has been overseas since December.

Regulations Cited

Under the War department regulations, Mrs. Friedel is allowed a maximum of 350 pounds of clothing, which will be of the serviceable rather than the glamorous variety. In addition, she is planning to take various household effects and electrical appliances which cannot be obtained in Germany, such as sheets, tablecloths and other linens; pots and pans, and an electric iron and electric broiler.

Although the larger articles will be shipped by the War department, one of the most important items, as far as Lt. Friedel is concerned, will be among his wife's personal effects.

"He loves his mother's homemade Italian spaghetti sauce," she said. "I'm going to take a few cans of it along with me."

Both Mrs. Friedel and her husband are graduates of Western Maryland college. For the past month the former has been employed as a case worker for the county welfare board here.

Mrs. Friedel confessed to being a bit "jittery" at the prospect of her long trip, but she has figured out a constructive way of passing her time on shipboard.

She plans to buy a German-English G.I. dictionary and start to learn the language of the country which will be her home for the next year.

Teachers Honor O. B. Boughton At Farewell Party

Veteran Instructor Gives Fiery Oration during Mock Trial by Jury

There were all the elements of a gridiron performance, a musical comedy and an old fashioned revival in the farewell party Allegany county teachers gave last night at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club in honor of Orbie B. Boughton, 70, who is retiring this month after fifty-one years as a teacher in Allegany county public schools.

With William A. Gunter serving as "ringmaster," the teachers let down their back hair in trying Mr. Boughton in a colorful court of law replete with song and dance numbers that featured such school dignitaries as Superintendent Charles L. Kopp and Principal Victor D. Heisey, of Fort Hill high school, in top hats and with elegant mustachios in the best Gay Nineties tradition. The specific charge against the defendant was that he had done entirely too much for county teachers, and he was found overwhelmingly guilty.

Gives Rousing Oration

When called upon to defend himself, Mr. Boughton's eyes fairly glistened. After rubbing his hands with satisfaction he proceeded to give the big audience of teachers a oration on the necessity of strong organization. It was absolutely a rock-bottom, hew-to-the-line, get-in-there-and-fight organization speech.

Big time union leaders who have failed to see Mr. Boughton in action have neglected their education, for the veteran leader of the Teachers Association is a ball of fire when he goes into action. Mr. Boughton has been preaching the gospel of effective organization for thirty years, and teachers present last night agreed that his valedictory performance surpassed all previous records.

Shaking his finger at the teachers, Mr. Boughton declared, "I tell you, and you should never forget this, unless you have an organization and an effective one, they'll walk all over you. You have to fight. You have to fight not only to win the gains that are your due but you also have to fight to hold on to them."

The trial by jury was probably the most unusual in Allegany county history, featuring three rousing organization addresses by Mr. Boughton, interspersed by song and dance numbers by such featured entertainers as Miss Lela Taylor, Mrs. Nellie Dreyer Smith, Miss Elizabeth Miley, Mrs. Alverda Ford, Miss Sara Wright and Miss Nellie Willison. While these teachers, in lavish costumes, romped and sang about the sedate man in the dock, the prisoner sat solemnly and thoughtfully, waiting for his next inning.

Prisoner Found Guilty

After finding the prisoner guilty as all get out, Superintendent Kopp paid an effective tribute to the retiring teacher, after which Miss Taylor, representing the Teacher's Association, presented Mr. and Mrs. Boughton with a $500 banknote and a new radio. Mr. Boughton promptly put the banknote on a chair and his wife found it necessary to remind him to pick it up before leaving.

The teachers had a dinner of fried chicken, gravy, mashed potatoes, salad, relish, rolls, coffee and cake roll.

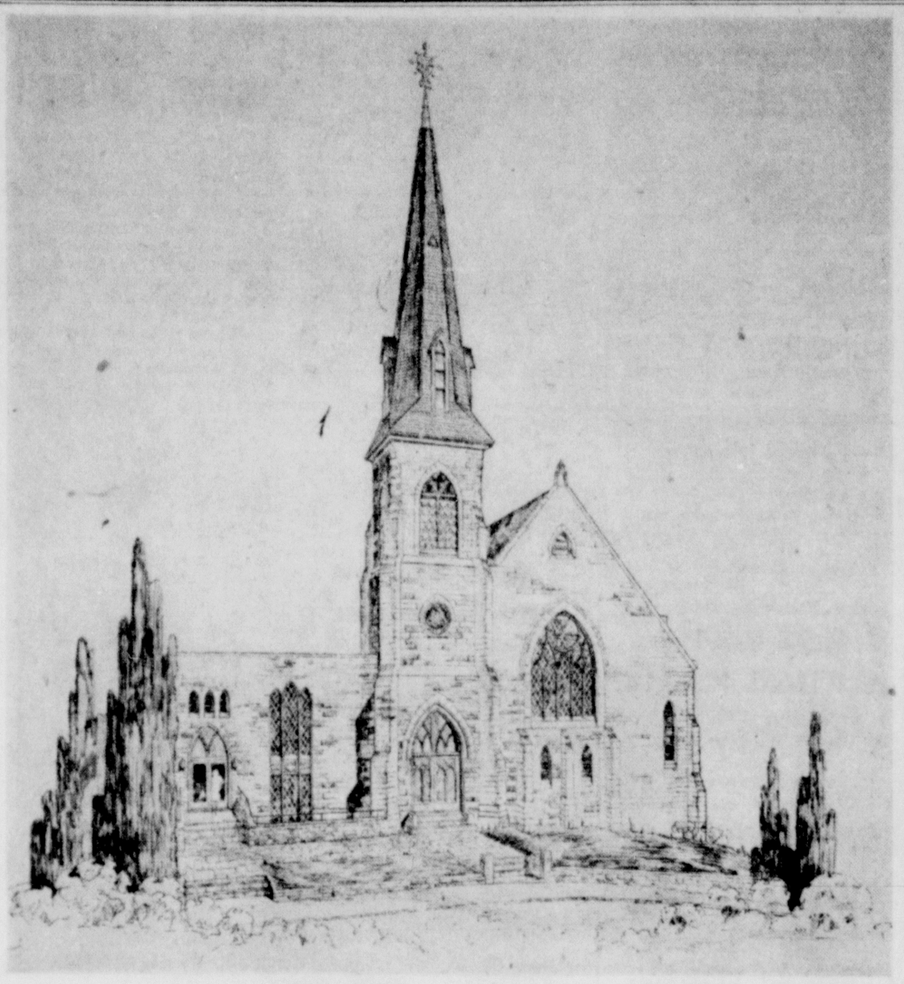

The invocation was given by Miss Lillian C. Compton, acting president of Frostburg State Teachers College. Mr. Heisey gave the address of welcome and after extolling the virtues of the retiring teacher, declared "I'll miss him." At this point Mr. Gunter took over and the party rapidly started to hit a more hilarious stride, concluding with the trial and Mr. Boughton's able defense of himself.

The party had all the ingredients of a thorough sendoff for the capable science teacher and even included a congratulatory telegram from Governor Herbert R. O'Conor, a cleverly illustrated program, colorful place cards featuring a small district schoolhouse such as the one in which Mr. Boughton first taught in 1895 at Eckhart, and a rendition of the veteran teacher's favorite songs, including "Oh Susannah," "Seeing Nellie Home," "Golden Slippers" and "Santa Lucia."

Undercurrent of Sadness

However, despite all the revelry and high jinks, there was an undercurrent of sadness last night too, for it was obvious that the teachers are aware that they are losing a champion who has vigorously fought their battles for them for many years without fear or favor.

The committee in charge of the party included Miss Edwina Kraus, chairman; Miss Eleanor Rizer, Miss Lola Hudson, Paul Perdew, Miss Nellie Willison, Miss Sara Wright, and Miss Lola Burral. Members of the cast in the court scene included Arthur W. Taylor, Earl F. Brain, Mr. and Mrs. Boughton, Lewyn C. Davis, Robert C. Morris, Miss Taylor, Miss Wright, Miss Willison, Superintendent Kopp and Principal Heisey.

HOW IT WILL LOOK—Shown above is a drawing made by S. Russ Minter, local architect, which shows how the First Presbyterian church, Washington street, will look when a $60,000 expansion, remodeling and addition program is completed. The construction plan calls for removing the church house next door to the church, and constructing a two-story fire proof building, running parallel with the west side of the church itself. The first floor of the addition will contain additional class rooms, a lecture hall, kitchen, choir room and other facilities. The second floor will have numerous rooms to be used for Sunday school, as well as other church activities. Some of the changes will include remodeling of the church basement.

Oscar Bergstrom Resigns Position At Central YMCA

Accepts Post at Bristol, R. I., YMCA; To Assume Duties May 15

Oscar I. Bergstrom, associate general secretary at Central YMCA since the fall of 1943, has resigned to become general secretary of the YMCA in Bristol, R. I., Robert S. Sisson, general YMCA secretary, announced last night.

The resignation will be effective May 15, when Bergstrom will assume his new duties.

Bergstrom came here from Washington, D. C., where he had served as associate boys' work secretary for two years. During his stay in Cumberland, he organized the Hi-Y council, assisted in organizing the Rec club, organized the YMCA Sunday School softball league, served as camp director in 1945, organized summer educational trips, and was instrumental in organizing the "youth government" program for the state of Maryland. The latter program gives high school boys training in preparing legislation and in studying the processes of state government.

A native of Lynn, Mass., Bergstrom was graduated from Springfield college, Springfield, Mass., in 1938. Following his graduation, he was employed in Gloucester, Mass., as YMCA boys' work secretary until 1941, during which time he organized a day camp at a city beach, and instituted a boys' "Town Meeting" program, based on New England town government.

After going to Washington, he organized a Hi-Y council for the metropolitan area as a "boys' cabinet" for the purpose of instructing boys in democratic procedure. He also served as associate camp director and organized an honor society.

Bergstrom is a member of the Cumberland Kiwanis club. He is married and has a 5-year-old daughter.

MARRIED IN UTAH—Cpl. Lee Berkeley Matthews, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Matthews, LaVale married Miss Laura Beth Blomquist, Salt Lake City, Utah, in St. Paul's Episcopal church, at Salt Lake, Feb. 23. (See story).

Conservation Is America's Power, Bertholf Asserts

Speaker Tells Kiwanians Resources Must Be Conserved and Shared

Although America is a strong nation at the present time, it will not remain so unless natural resources are conserved and education continues to progress, Dr. Lloyd M. Bertholf, head of the department of biology of Western Maryland college, Westminster, said yesterday in an address before the Kiwanis club in Central YMCA.

In his opinion, Dr. Bertholf said, two things are the source of power. One is conservation and the other is the knowledge of how to use and conserve these resources, he declared, adding that soil is the most important resource because it is the principal source of food supply.

Power of nations stems from the presence of natural resources, principally soil, plus the knowhow of science, Dr. Bertholf said, pointing out that there is a responsibility that goes with power.

"If America uses her power merely to keep her standard of living above that of every other nation, we shall have no friends anywhere on the earth," he stated. "And if we use our power merely to intimidate, we may scare disturbers of the peace into silence for awhile, but only until they can gather enough resources to challenge our power."

Dr. Bertholf asserted that "power is a trust. Our resources are ours only by accident. They will have to be shared. This will have to be one world or it will be none. Our dominating power will have to be given over, I firmly believe, to a world government — a government more powerful than any one nation on earth.

"If not, we are headed for another war from which there will emerge not a victory of allies, but a victory of a single nation. We shall have unity, all right, but at the cost of practically everything the world has built up in its civilization."

Four new members were inducted into the club by James W. Bishop, past president of the club. They are Dr. Fuller B. Whitworth, Harry Iles, Richard Light and George Davis.

First Two Weeks in November Tentatively Set for 1946 Campaign

Additional funds have been received to raise to $100,852 the total of contributions to the Cumberland Community Chest and National War Fund campaign last November, Henry C. Swearingen, chest president, announced last night at the quarterly meeting of the chest's board of directors in the Liberty Trust building.

Financial statements were submitted by Mrs. Emma Everstine, treasurer, showing that disbursements to the chest agencies for the month of March were $4,284.26, leaving a balance in the chest account of $8,085.54 with $35,481.25 still due from the combined war fund and chest fund.

Fruit in Tri-State Area Damaged by Frost

Tri-state orchardists yesterday were not certain regarding the extent of damage caused by low temperatures Wednesday night ranging from 22 to 30 degrees but are hoping for the best.

There is no doubt that the frost did some damage, mostly in lowland areas, but the fact that the weather has been dry of late and the fact that apple trees are not in full blossom as yet may have been a saving factor.

Orchardists, who point out that last year was the off year for apples, say that this should be a good apple year providing frost does not get at the trees this month.

County Agent R. F. McHenry yesterday said it was too early to state the extent of damage in this area but is hopeful that it was scattered.

On a tour of inspection yesterday morning, McHenry found ice crystals in the calyx of peach blossoms and also noted that the center buds in apple clusters were frozen in some instances. Fortunately, however, apple trees in this area are not in full blossom as yet.

Mrs. Friedel confessed to being a bit "jittery" at the prospect of her long trip, but she has figured out a constructive way of passing her time on shipboard.

She plans to buy a German-English G.I. dictionary and start to learn the language of the country which will be her home for the next year.
